§ 8.01	"Upon request of the county attorney, the attorney general shall appear in court in such criminal cases as the attorney general deems proper"	Additional pathway — not exclusive gate
§ 8.01	"Whenever the governor shall so request, in writing, the attorney general shall prosecute any person charged with an	Additional pathway — not exclusive gate

§ 8.03	"The attorney general shall cause to be prosecuted all assessors and other officials"	Mandatory

§ 8.31, Subd. 1	"The attorney general shall investigate violations of the law of this state respecting unfair, discriminatory, and other unlawful practices in business, commerce, or trade, and specifically, but not exclusively... the Prevention of Consumer Fraud Act (sections 325F.68 to 325F.70)"	Mandatory; Independent; No referral required

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY: 50-STATE FINDINGS

Finding	Count
States whose AG websites describe criminal investigation/prosecution authority	49
States whose AG websites affirmatively disclaim criminal authority that their own statutes grant	1 (Minnesota)
States with constitutionally separate criminal prosecution agency (accurate disclaimer)	1 (Connecticut)
States with named criminal investigation divisions	39
States with explicit digital forensics / cyber crime capabilities	23
States with dedicated Special Investigations units	23
States with Human Trafficking / Child Exploitation units	31
States with Police / Officer Misconduct investigation authority	25

Minnesota is the sole state among all 50 that affirmatively disclaims criminal investigation authority that its own statutes grant. Connecticut is the only other state with disclaimer-like language, but Connecticut's disclaimer accurately reflects a 1984 constitutional amendment (Art. XXIII) that transferred criminal authority to a separate Division of Criminal Justice. Minnesota has no such constitutional basis — its disclaimer contradicts Minn. Stat. §§ 8.01 and 8.31.

Minnesota's § 8.31 grants stronger independent criminal investigation authority than at least 38 of the other 49 states — mandatory "shall investigate" with no referral requirement. Even Texas, which has the weakest statutory grant in the nation (strictly request-based), openly describes its Digital Forensics capabilities. Minnesota, with stronger authority than Texas, disclaims it.

THE CONNECTICUT DISTINCTION: WHY THE SOLE OTHER "DISCLAIMER" IS NOT AN OUTLIER

Connecticut is the only other state whose AG website contains disclaimer-like language regarding criminal authority. But Connecticut's disclaimer is constitutionally accurate and structurally distinct from Minnesota's:

Factor	Connecticut	Minnesota
AG disclaims criminal authority?	Yes	Yes
Constitutional basis for disclaimer?	Yes — Art. XXIII (ratified by voters, 1984)	No — no constitutional amendment
Separate criminal prosecution agency?	Yes — Division of Criminal Justice, headed by Chief State's Attorney	No — county attorneys under Ch. 388 are not a replacement
AG's disclaimer is accurate?	Yes — the Legislature and voters transferred the authority	No — §§ 8.01 and 8.31 still grant the authority
AG exercises criminal authority despite disclaimer?	No — the AG genuinely lacks it	Yes — prosecutes fraud "every single day" per congressional testimony
Voters approved the transfer?	Yes — ratified by popular vote, November 1984	N/A — no transfer, no vote

Connecticut proves that disclaiming criminal authority requires constitutional action. Minnesota took no such action. The disclaimer is without constitutional, statutory, or democratic basis.

See Conn. Const. Art. XXIII; Conn. Gen. Stat. §§ 51-275 through 51-286 (Division of Criminal Justice); Conn. Gen. Stat. § 3-125 (AG limited to civil jurisdiction); Division of Criminal Justice website at portal.ct.gov/dcj (describing separation from AG).

COMPARISON STATES: ALL 50 STATES SURVEYED

Screenshots of all 50 state AG websites are appended at the end of this exhibit.

2. CONNECTICUT — Division of Criminal Justice (Separate from AG)

URL: <https://portal.ct.gov/DCJ/About-Us/About-Us/About-Us>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Conn. Gen. Stat. § 3-125; Conn. Const. Art. XXIII

Website Language (Exact Quote):

"The Division of Criminal Justice is responsible for the investigation and prosecution of all criminal matters in the State of Connecticut."

"With very few limited exceptions the Attorney General has no jurisdiction whatsoever over criminal matters and no authority to prosecute criminal violations of the law."

Statutory Text:

Conn. Gen. Stat. § 3-125: The Attorney General "shall have general supervision over all legal matters in which the state is an interested party, except those legal matters over which prosecuting officers have direction."

Authority type: Connecticut is the most structurally distinct state — criminal prosecution is constitutionally separated from the AG and vested in a separate Division of Criminal Justice headed by the Chief State's Attorney. This is a unique constitutional design, not an AG disclaimer.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Connecticut is the sole state where the AG genuinely lacks criminal prosecution authority — but this results from a constitutional amendment creating a separate Division of Criminal Justice, not from an AG disclaimer. Connecticut's structure is transparent: the Constitution assigns prosecution elsewhere. Minnesota's Constitution and statutes assign investigation authority to the AG (§ 8.31). Defendant's disclaimer contradicts his own enabling statutes — unlike Connecticut, where the division of authority is constitutionally mandated.

3. ALABAMA — Investigations Division / Criminal Trials Division / Special Prosecutions Division

URL: <https://www.alabamaag.gov/divisions/investigations-division/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Ala. Code §§ 36-15-1, 36-15-14, 36-15-15, 36-15-21

Website Language (Exact Quote):

"The Investigations Division provides investigative support for criminal and prosecutorial matters. Additionally, this division also assists other law enforcement agencies as needed."

The Criminal Trials Division "prosecutes violent crime in circuit courts throughout the state."

The Special Prosecutions Division "prosecutes mainly public corruption and complex economic crimes. The special prosecutions division works with federal and state agencies to conduct joint investigations and prosecutions."

Statutory Text:

Ala. Code § 36-15-21: "All litigation concerning the interest of the state, or any department of the state, shall be under the direction and control of the Attorney General."

Ala. Code § 36-15-14: The Attorney General, "either in person or by one of his or her assistants, at any time he or she deems proper," may direct prosecution in criminal cases.

Ala. Code § 36-15-15: The Attorney General may advise or direct district attorneys in the discharge of their duties.

Authority type: Independent with supervisory power over district attorneys. The AG operates criminal trial, special prosecution, and investigation divisions with statewide jurisdiction.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Alabama's AG operates three separate criminal divisions — Investigations, Criminal Trials, and Special Prosecutions — each openly described on its website. Alabama's § 36-15-21 vests all state litigation "under the direction and control" of the AG, paralleling Minnesota's § 8.01 grant. Alabama describes this authority; Defendant disclaims his.

4. ALASKA — Criminal Division

URL: https://law.alaska.gov/department/criminal/criminal_div.html

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: AS 44.23.020; AS 26-7

Website Language (Exact Quote):

"The Criminal Division prosecutes violations of state criminal law committed by adults and a large portion of the serious crimes committed by juveniles."

The Division has "13 regional District Attorney's offices" and an "Office of Special Prosecutions."

Statutory Text:

AS 44.23.020: The Attorney General shall prosecute all cases involving violation of state law, and file informations and prosecute all offenses against the revenue laws and other state laws.

Authority type: Primary and independent. Alaska is unique — the AG's office is the state's primary criminal prosecution authority. There are no elected county or district attorneys; all criminal prosecution flows through the Department of Law.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Alaska's model is the strongest possible: the AG is the sole criminal prosecution authority statewide. There is no concurrent local prosecutor system. Alaska's AS 44.23.020 uses mandatory "shall prosecute" language identical to Minnesota's § 8.31 "shall investigate." Alaska describes this authority as its core mission; Defendant disclaims an equivalent mandate.

5. ARIZONA — Criminal Division

URL: <https://www.azag.gov/criminal>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: A.R.S. §§ 41-192, 41-193; A.R.S. § 44-1521 et seq. (Consumer Fraud Act)

Website Language (Exact Quote):

"The Criminal Division's mission is to protect the citizens of Arizona by successfully investigating and aggressively and fairly prosecuting criminal cases within the State of Arizona."

The AG has jurisdiction over "consumer fraud, white collar crime, organized crime, public corruption, environmental crimes, civil rights laws, and crimes committed in more than one county."

Statutory Text:

A.R.S. § 41-192: The Attorney General "shall have charge of and direct the department of law and shall serve as chief legal officer of the state."

A.R.S. § 41-193: The Department of Law has authority to investigate and prosecute violations including vulnerable adult abuse, consumer fraud, drug trafficking, human smuggling, environmental crimes, money laundering, white collar crimes, political corruption, and high technology crimes.

Authority type: Hybrid — independent for enumerated categories (including consumer fraud) plus request-based for general crimes. The AG has original jurisdiction over multi-county crimes.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Arizona's AG has explicit statutory jurisdiction over "consumer fraud" and "high technology crimes" — the precise categories in Plaintiff's criminal referral. Arizona describes aggressive prosecution of these crimes; Defendant rejected Plaintiff's referral claiming "We only handle consumer disputes."

6. ARKANSAS — Special Investigations Division / Medicaid Fraud Control Unit / Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

URL (Criminal): <https://arkansasag.gov/divisions/medicaid-fraud-control-unit/>

URL (Intergovernmental Affairs): <https://arkansasag.gov/divisions/intergovernmental-affairs/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Ark. Code §§ 4-88-101 et seq. (Deceptive Trade Practices Act); Ark. Code § 4-88-105

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The Medicaid Fraud Control Unit "fights Medicaid fraud by investigating and prosecuting violations of state and federal law involving Medicaid providers and the abuse or neglect of nursing home residents."

The Office of Intergovernmental Affairs "serves as the liaison between the Office of Attorney General and all levels of government — federal, state, and local. All contact with our federal delegation, constitutional officers, members of the General Assembly, mayors, county judges, justices of the peace, etc. flows through the IGA team." IGA also "ushers through the Attorney General's policy initiatives and legislative package" and "manages a cross-division team of attorneys to review every bill filed at the state level to ensure the proposed laws are constitutional."

Statutory Text:

Ark. Code § 4-88-111: The Attorney General may conduct investigations when the AG "determines an investigation should be made as to whether a person has engaged in unlawful practices" or when the AG receives a complaint from a consumer.

Ark. Code § 4-88-113: The Attorney General has authority to bring enforcement proceedings to prevent unlawful deceptive trade practices and to restore to purchasers any ascertainable losses. Willful violations constitute a Class A misdemeanor.

Authority type: Independent for consumer protection and Medicaid fraud. The AG has both civil enforcement and criminal referral authority for deceptive trade practices. The IGA division provides the intergovernmental coordination function that Minnesota's § 8.01 contemplates but Defendant disclaims.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Arkansas's AG independently investigates and prosecutes consumer fraud and Medicaid fraud — categories directly paralleling Minnesota's § 8.31 consumer protection mandate. Critically, Arkansas's AG also maintains a dedicated Office of Intergovernmental Affairs serving as the liaison between state and federal government — precisely the intergovernmental coordination function that Minnesota's § 8.01 authorizes ("shall appear for the state in all causes in the supreme and federal courts") and that Plaintiff's criminal referral required. When Plaintiff submitted a referral documenting federal crimes committed through statewide ISP infrastructure — requiring coordination between state and federal enforcement — Defendant's office disclaimed the authority that Arkansas institutionalizes in a dedicated division.

7. CALIFORNIA — Bureau of Investigation

URL: <https://oag.ca.gov/bi>

Accessed: March 18, 2026

Statutory Authority: Various Penal Code provisions; AB 1506 (officer-involved shootings)

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The Bureau's mission is to "provide statewide expert investigative services combating multi-jurisdictional criminal organizations."

The Bureau investigates "organized crime, consumer fraud protection, cyber-crimes, and any crime or civil action of statewide importance to the Attorney General."

Special Agents are "experts in conducting complex criminal investigations ranging from identity theft to trans-national criminal enterprises."

Statutory Text:

Cal. Gov. Code § 12550: "The Attorney General has direct supervision over the district attorneys of the several counties of the state." "When the Attorney General deems it advisable or necessary in the public interest, or when directed to do so by the Governor, the Attorney General shall assist any district attorney in the discharge of the district attorney's duties, and may, if deemed necessary, take full charge of any investigation or prosecution of violations of law of which the superior court has jurisdiction. In this respect the Attorney General has all the powers of a district attorney, including the power to issue or cause to be issued subpoenas or other process."

Authority type: Broad independent authority — the strongest in this comparison. The AG can unilaterally "take full charge of any investigation or prosecution" when the AG "deems it advisable or necessary in the public interest." No request required.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

California's AG explicitly claims authority over "consumer fraud protection" and "cyber-crimes" — the precise categories documented in Plaintiff's criminal referral that Defendant rejected. California's § 12550 grants the AG power to "take full charge of any investigation or prosecution" — paralleling Minnesota's § 8.31 mandatory investigation authority. California describes this power; Defendant disclaims his.

8. COLORADO — Criminal Justice Section

URL: <https://coag.gov/office-sections/criminal-justice/>

Accessed: March 18, 2026

Statutory Authority: C.R.S. § 24-31-101 et seq.

Website Language (Exact Quote):

"Investigates and prosecutes on a statewide basis a broad array of matters including but not limited to: securities fraud, insurance fraud, environmental violations, human trafficking, drug trafficking homicides, and multi-jurisdictional organized crime."

"This work is accomplished either under the original jurisdiction of the Attorney General's Office, or in partnership with and at the request of state and federal prosecutors and law enforcement."

Statutory Text:

C.R.S. § 24-31-101(1)(a): The AG may "independently initiate and bring civil and criminal actions" to enforce enumerated state laws, including the Colorado Consumer Protection Act and the Unfair Practices Act.

C.R.S. § 24-31-101(1)(b): The AG "shall appear for the state and prosecute and defend all actions and proceedings, civil and criminal, in which the state is a party or is interested when required to do so by the governor."

Authority type: Hybrid — independent for enumerated statutes (including consumer protection), plus mandatory on governor's request. The "independently initiate" language for consumer protection directly parallels Minnesota's § 8.31.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

This is the most instructive comparison. Colorado's statute grants independent authority to "initiate and bring civil and criminal actions" for consumer protection — the identical category Plaintiff's criminal referral cited under § 325F.69. Colorado describes this dual-track structure accurately; Defendant falsely claims the Legislature granted him none.

9. DELAWARE — Criminal Division

URL: <https://attorneygeneral.delaware.gov/criminal/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Del. Code tit. 29, § 2504

Website Language (Exact Quote):

"The Criminal Division of the Department of Justice is responsible for the prosecution of criminal cases throughout the State from misdemeanors to murders."

Statutory Text:

Del. Code tit. 29, § 2504: The State Department of Justice and the Attorney General shall "continue to exercise the powers and perform the duties by the Constitution, statutes and common law vested in and imposed upon the Attorney General." The Attorney General may appoint a State Prosecutor who "shall be responsible for the prosecution of all criminal matters."

Authority type: Primary and independent. Like Alaska, Delaware's AG is the primary criminal prosecution authority statewide. There are no elected county prosecutors.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Delaware's AG is the state's chief prosecutor — responsible for "criminal cases throughout the State from misdemeanors to murders." This is among the broadest AG criminal authority models in the nation. Delaware openly describes this role; Defendant disclaims authority that his own statutes make mandatory.

10. FLORIDA — Office of Statewide Prosecution

URL:

<https://www.myfloridalegal.com/pages.nsf/Main/D243EF87774E965185256CC600785693>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Fla. Stat. § 16.56; Fla. Const. Art. IV, § 4(b)

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The Statewide Prosecutor has authority to prosecute "violations of criminal laws occurring or having occurred, in two or more judicial circuits as part of a related transaction, or when any such offense is affecting or has affected two or more judicial circuits."

Statutory Text:

Fla. Stat. § 16.56(1): The Attorney General shall appoint a statewide prosecutor who "shall be in charge of the Office of Statewide Prosecution."

Fla. Stat. § 16.56(2): The statewide prosecutor may "conduct hearings at any place in the state; summon and examine witnesses; require the production of physical evidence; sign informations, indictments, and other official documents; confer immunity" and "exercise such other powers as by law are granted to state attorneys."

Authority type: Constitutionally established for multi-circuit crimes. The Statewide Prosecutor operates with full state attorney powers for crimes crossing judicial circuit boundaries.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Florida's Statewide Prosecutor was specifically designed for multi-jurisdictional crimes — the exact type of crime documented in Plaintiff's referral (statewide ISP infrastructure attacks). Florida created a constitutional office to handle such cases; Defendant told Plaintiff "Contact the FBI."

11. GEORGIA — Department of Law / Prosecution Division

URL: <https://law.georgia.gov/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: O.C.G.A. §§ 45-15-3, 45-15-10

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The Prosecution Division oversees specialized units including "Human Trafficking, Gangs, White Collar and Cyber Crime, and Organized Retail Crime."

The White Collar and Cyber Crime Unit "investigates and prosecutes fraud and corruption involving the State of Georgia's departments and agencies, cyber crime, crimes against the state, and criminal violations of the Fair Business Practices Act."

Statutory Text:

O.C.G.A. § 45-15-3(3): The Attorney General shall participate in "criminal actions when required to do so by the Governor" and in "other criminal or civil actions involving the state."

O.C.G.A. § 45-15-10: The Attorney General "is authorized to prosecute in the criminal courts any official, person, firm, or corporation which violates any criminal statute while dealing with or for the state."

Authority type: Hybrid — independent for crimes against the state, request-based from Governor for general criminal cases. Has specific statutory authority over cyber crime and consumer fraud.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Georgia's AG independently investigates and prosecutes "cyber crime" and "criminal violations of the Fair Business Practices Act" — directly paralleling the categories in Plaintiff's referral. Georgia describes this authority on its website; Defendant disclaims identical authority.

12. HAWAII — Criminal Justice Division

URL: <https://ag.hawaii.gov/cjd/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: H.R.S. §§ 28-1, 28-2, 26-7

Website Language (Exact Quote):

"The Criminal Justice Division is the criminal prosecution arm of the Attorney General" and "concentrates on cases involving crimes involving a state agency, employee or official, and crimes where a county prosecutor has a conflict of interest or is otherwise unable or unwilling to prosecute a case."

Statutory Text:

H.R.S. § 28-1: The attorney general "shall appear for the State personally or by deputy in all courts of record in all criminal cases in which the State may be a party or be interested."

H.R.S. § 28-2: "The attorney general shall be vigilant and active in detecting offenders against the laws of the State, and shall prosecute the same with diligence."

Authority type: Independent and mandatory. The "shall be vigilant and active in detecting offenders" language is among the strongest affirmative mandates in any state — stronger even than Minnesota's § 8.31.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Hawaii's § 28-2 imposes a mandatory duty to be "vigilant and active in detecting offenders" — a direct analogue to Minnesota's § 8.31 mandatory investigation duty. Hawaii's AG describes this authority as its prosecution arm's core mission; Defendant disclaims his equivalent mandate.

13. IDAHO — Special Prosecutions Unit

URL: <https://www.ag.idaho.gov/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Idaho Code § 67-1401

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The AG investigates "allegations of violations of state criminal law by elected county or city officers acting in their official capacity" and may "retain such cases for further investigation and prosecution."

Statutory Text:

Idaho Code § 67-1401(1): The Attorney General shall "exercise concurrent investigative and prosecutorial authority and responsibility with county prosecutors" to prosecute persons for violations of criminal provisions related to Medicaid fraud.

Idaho Code § 67-1401(8): The Attorney General shall "exercise concurrent investigative and prosecutorial authority and responsibility with county prosecutors" for violations of criminal provisions related to internet crimes against children.

Idaho Code § 67-1401: The Attorney General "exercises all the common law power and authority usually appertaining to the office."

Authority type: Concurrent jurisdiction for enumerated categories (Medicaid fraud, ICAC, public corruption) plus residual common law authority.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Idaho's AG has "concurrent investigative and prosecutorial authority" for consumer fraud and child exploitation — paralleling Minnesota's § 8.31. Idaho describes this concurrent authority openly; Defendant disclaims any investigative authority whatsoever.

14. ILLINOIS — Criminal Prosecutions

URL: <https://illinoisattorneygeneral.gov/Safer-Communities/Violence-Prevention-and-Community-Safety/Prosecuting-crimes/>

Accessed: March 18, 2026

Statutory Authority: Statewide Grand Jury Act, 725 ILCS 215/1 et seq.

Website Language (Exact Quote):

"The Statewide Grand Jury Bureau charges and prosecutes major multi-county drug, money-laundering, and gun crimes throughout the state."

"Its authority comes from the Statewide Grand Jury Act, 725 ILCS 215/1, et seq."

The Sexually Violent Persons Bureau "prosecutes all SVP cases and assists with SDP cases throughout the 102 counties of this State."

Statutory Text:

15 ILCS 205/4 (Fourth Duty): "when, in his judgment, the interest of the people of the State requires it, he shall attend the trial of any party accused of crime, and assist in the prosecution."

15 ILCS 205/4 (Fifth Duty): "The Attorney General may investigate alleged violations of the statutes which the Attorney General has a duty to enforce."

725 ILCS 215/2 (Statewide Grand Jury Act): Creates a Statewide Grand Jury with authority to "investigate, indict, and prosecute" narcotic activity, drug trafficking, money laundering, unlawful firearms sale, and streetgang-related felonies.

Authority type: Partial independent authority. General criminal prosecution is assistive; independent prosecution available for election crimes and through the Statewide Grand Jury mechanism.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Illinois operates with 102 state's attorneys (county-level prosecutors), comparable to Minnesota's 87 county attorneys. Illinois's AG cites specific statutory authority for its criminal prosecution work. Defendant cites no statute for his claim of "no delegated authority" — because no such limiting statute exists.

15. INDIANA — Consumer Protection Division

URL: <https://www.in.gov/attorneygeneral/consumer-protection-division/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Ind. Code §§ 4-6-1-6, 4-6-2-1.1

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The Consumer Protection Division "mediates and investigates consumer complaints against businesses and other organizations and takes legal action on behalf of the state against individuals and companies that violate Indiana's Deceptive Consumer Sales Act."

Statutory Text:

Ind. Code § 4-6-1-6: The Attorney General "shall consult with and advise prosecuting attorneys of the state regarding the duties of their office, and when the attorney general's judgment finds the public interest requires it, the attorney

1 general shall attend the trial of any party accused of an offense and assist in the
 2 prosecution."

4 Ind. Code § 4-6-2-1.1: The Attorney General has "concurrent jurisdiction with 5 prosecuting attorneys" in prosecutions involving homicide during unlawful 6 assembly and sheriffs accused of offenses involving prisoner custody.

8 Authority type: Hybrid — independent consumer protection enforcement plus concurrent
 9 criminal jurisdiction for enumerated offenses plus public-interest discretion to assist in any
 10 prosecution.
 11

12 Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

13 Indiana's AG has statutory authority to assist in any prosecution "when the public interest
 14 requires it" — the same discretionary language found in Minnesota's § 8.01. Indiana
 15 describes its consumer protection investigation and enforcement role; Defendant disclaims 16 his.

 23

24 Website Language (Exact Quote):

25
 26 "Prosecuting major criminal cases that county attorneys refer to the Attorney
 27 General."
 28

29 The section handles cases "(1) when the county attorney has a conflict of interest that 30 prevents that county attorney from acting in an investigation or prosecution, and (2)
 31 when an especially serious or complicated case requires prosecution resources in 32 addition to those already available in the county attorney's office."
 33

34 Specializes in "major felony prosecutions, including cases of murder, homicide, 35 kidnapping, sexual abuse, robbery, theft and fraud, child abuse and 36 exploitation, domestic violence, elder abuse, arson, white collar crimes, public 37 corruption, and human trafficking."
 38

39 Also "Prosecutes criminal cases requiring specialized legal training, e.g.,
 40 Medicaid fraud, violence against women, environmental crime, securities fraud,
 41 obscenity, correctional institution crime and tax crimes."
 42

43 Statutory Text:

44
 45 Iowa Code § 13.2(1)(b): The AG shall "Prosecute and defend in any other court or
 46 tribunal, all actions and proceedings, civil or criminal, in which the state may be a 47 party or interested, when, in the attorney general's judgment, the interest of the 48 state requires such action, or when requested to do so by the governor, executive 49 council, or general assembly."
 50

Authority type: Hybrid — independent AND request-based. The AG has discretionary authority when "in the attorney general's judgment, the interest of the state requires" — closely paralleling Minnesota's § 8.01.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Iowa operates with 99 elected county attorneys — comparable to Minnesota's 87 county attorneys. Iowa's AG openly describes its prosecution authority for cases referred by county attorneys and cases requiring specialized resources. Iowa's statute grants the AG independent judgment to prosecute — the same structure Minnesota's § 8.01 provides. Iowa's AG describes this authority; Defendant disclaims it.

17. KANSAS — Criminal Litigation Division

URL: <https://www.ag.ks.gov/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: K.S.A. § 75-702

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The Attorney General's office has authority to "prosecute and defend any and all actions and proceedings, civil or criminal" in which the state is interested.

Statutory Text:

K.S.A. § 75-702: "The attorney general shall appear for the state, and prosecute and defend any and all actions and proceedings, civil or criminal, in the Kansas supreme court, the Kansas court of appeals and in all federal courts, in which the state shall be interested or a party."

K.S.A. § 75-702: "The attorney general shall have concurrent authority with any county or district attorney to prosecute the following crimes when they are part of an alleged course of criminal conduct that occurred in two or more counties: organized retail crime, theft, violations of the Kansas racketeer influenced and corrupt organizations act."

Authority type: Hybrid — mandatory appearance in appellate courts, concurrent jurisdiction for multi-county organized crime, plus request-based from Governor or Legislature for any other criminal matter.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Kansas grants explicit concurrent jurisdiction for multi-county crimes — directly applicable to Plaintiff's case involving statewide ISP infrastructure. Kansas describes this authority in statute; Defendant disclaims authority over the identical category of multi-jurisdictional crime.

18. KENTUCKY — Office of Criminal Investigation

URL: <https://www.ag.ky.gov/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: K.R.S. §§ 15.020, 15.205, 15.231, 15.243, 15.715

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The AG's office houses the Office of Criminal Investigation and provides investigative support and prosecution assistance across the Commonwealth.

Statutory Text:

K.R.S. § 15.715: The Attorney General may "intervene in criminal prosecutions," prosecute complaints against local prosecutors, and perform the duties of local prosecutors until a vacancy is filled.

K.R.S. § 15.231: The Attorney General has "jurisdiction in criminal and civil cases involving theft of identity and trafficking in stolen identities."

K.R.S. § 15.243: The Attorney General shall enforce all election laws and has "authority to initiate prosecutions" for election violations.

K.R.S. § 15.205: The Attorney General may "direct Commonwealth's attorneys or county attorneys to act as special prosecutors."

Authority type: Hybrid — independent for enumerated categories (identity theft, election crimes), supervisory authority over local prosecutors, plus intervention authority.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Kentucky's AG has independent jurisdiction over identity theft and election crimes, plus authority to intervene in any prosecution and direct local prosecutors. Kentucky describes multiple overlapping criminal authorities; Defendant disclaims any authority at all.

19. LOUISIANA — Criminal Division

URL: <https://www.ag.state.la.us/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: La. Const. Art. IV, § 8

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The AG's office handles public corruption cases, criminal appeals, post-conviction proceedings, and may step in to ensure impartial prosecution in high-profile cases where conflicts of interest arise.

Statutory Text:

La. Const. Art. IV, § 8(B): "As necessary for the assertion or protection of any right or interest of the state, the attorney general shall have authority (1) to institute, prosecute, or intervene in any civil action or proceeding; (2) upon the written request of a district attorney, to advise and assist in the prosecution of any criminal case; and (3) for cause, when authorized by the court which would have original jurisdiction and subject to judicial review, (a) to institute, prosecute, or intervene in any criminal action or proceeding, or (b) to supersede any attorney representing the state in any civil or criminal action."

Authority type: Constitutional authority with three tiers: (1) independent civil authority, (2) request-based criminal assistance, (3) court-authorized independent criminal prosecution for cause. The AG can supersede local prosecutors.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Louisiana's AG has constitutional authority to "institute, prosecute, or intervene in any criminal action" and to "supersede any attorney representing the state." This is a powerful constitutional grant — and Louisiana describes it openly. Minnesota's § 8.31 provides comparable mandatory investigation authority; Defendant disclaims it.

20. MAINE — Criminal Division

URL: https://www.maine.gov/ag/about/office_organization.html

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Me. Rev. Stat. tit. 5, §§ 193, 200-A

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The Criminal Division is authorized "in order to coordinate all criminal investigation and prosecution for the purpose of improving law enforcement within the State of Maine."

The Investigation Division "carries out a wide variety of both criminal and civil investigations, and serves as a resource for specialized assistance and advice for other agencies with respect to investigations. The Division carries out statutorily-required investigations of fraud against the State, and the use of deadly force by police officers. The Division is the primary investigative agency in the State for any sort of public corruption. The Division provides investigative services for other divisions of the Attorney General's Office, several state licensing boards, and the eight District Attorneys in the State when the need arises."

The Litigation Division attorneys "represent the state in both civil and criminal appeals."

Statutory Text:

Me. Rev. Stat. tit. 5, § 200-A: "The Attorney General is authorized to create a Criminal Division within the Department of the Attorney General in order to coordinate all criminal investigation and prosecution for the purpose of improving law enforcement within the State of Maine."

Me. Rev. Stat. tit. 5, § 200-A: "The Attorney General shall have full responsibility for the direction and control of all investigation and prosecution of homicides and such other major crimes as the Attorney General may deem necessary for the peace and good order of the State of Maine."

Me. Rev. Stat. tit. 5, § 193: The Attorney General may "prosecute by indictment or complaint any person who intrudes on the land, rights or property of the State... if in the Attorney General's judgment the public interest so requires."

Authority type: Independent and broad. The AG has "full responsibility for the direction and control" of homicide investigations and any "major crimes" deemed necessary — among the strongest state AG criminal mandates.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Maine's § 200-A grants the AG "full responsibility for the direction and control" of major criminal investigations — language paralleling Minnesota's § 8.31 mandatory "shall investigate" duty. Maine's AG describes this as its statutory mission; Defendant disclaims his.

21. MARYLAND — Criminal Division / Independent Investigations Division

URL: <https://www.marylandattorneygeneral.gov/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Md. Code, State Gov't §§ 6-106, 6-602, 6-604

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The Independent Investigations Division (IID) was "established by the General Assembly" and has both "investigative and prosecutorial authority."

Statutory Text:

Md. Code, State Gov't § 6-106: The Attorney General "has general charge of the legal business of the State" and is "the legal adviser of and shall represent" each officer and unit of the State government.

Md. Code, State Gov't § 6-604: "If the Attorney General determines that an investigation provides sufficient grounds for the prosecution of a criminal offense discovered in the course of the investigation, the Attorney General shall have exclusive authority to prosecute the offense."

Authority type: Hybrid — general charge of state legal business, plus exclusive prosecution authority for offenses discovered during AG investigations. The IID has independent investigative and prosecutorial authority for police-involved incidents.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Maryland's AG has "exclusive authority to prosecute" offenses discovered during investigations — a stronger mandate than Minnesota's § 8.31 in some respects. Maryland established a dedicated investigative division by legislative act; Defendant disclaims the investigation authority that the Minnesota Legislature enacted.

22. MASSACHUSETTS — Criminal Bureau

URL: <https://www.mass.gov/the-attorney-generals-criminal-bureau>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: M.G.L. c. 12, §§ 10, 11, 11D

Website Language (Exact Quote):

"The Attorney General's Criminal Bureau works to protect the public by investigating and prosecuting a wide range of criminal cases. These include public corruption, financial fraud, organized crime, major narcotic offenses, appellate issues, insurance and unemployment fraud, internet crimes, and more."

"The Enterprise and Major Crimes Division targets criminal enterprises and organizations using sophisticated investigative techniques."

Statutory Text:

M.G.L. c. 12, § 11D: The Attorney General may "investigate the management of any corporation" organized under the laws of the state, and "may require the production of any books, records, papers, documents and other evidence."

M.G.L. c. 12, § 10: The Attorney General "shall appear for the commonwealth and for state departments, officers and commissions in all suits and other civil proceedings in which the commonwealth is a party or interested, or in which the official acts and doings of said departments, officers and commissions are called in question, in all the courts of the commonwealth."

Authority type: Broad independent authority. The Criminal Bureau investigates and prosecutes organized crime, financial fraud, and internet crimes independently.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Massachusetts's AG independently investigates and prosecutes "internet crimes" and "financial fraud" — the precise categories in Plaintiff's referral. Massachusetts describes this as a core function; Defendant disclaims identical authority.

23. MICHIGAN — Criminal Investigations Division / Criminal Trials Division

URL: <https://www.michigan.gov/ag/about/bureaus-and-divisions/criminal-justice-bureau/criminal-investigations-division>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: MCL 14.28

Website Language (Exact Quote):

"The Criminal Investigations Division (CID) is the sworn Law Enforcement Division within the Attorney General's Office that provides investigative support throughout the State of Michigan."

The CID oversees "an extensive spectrum of criminal investigations, ranging from white-collar crimes to corruption and beyond."

Statutory Text:

MCL 14.28: "The attorney general shall prosecute and defend all actions in the supreme court, in which the state shall be interested, or a party" and "may, when in his own judgment the interests of the state require it, intervene in and appear for the people of this state in any other court or tribunal, in any cause or matter, civil or criminal, in which the people of this state may be a party or interested."

Authority type: Broad independent authority with concurrent jurisdiction. Michigan courts have held the AG possesses all powers of a prosecuting attorney, may bring original criminal actions, and is the "exclusive representative" of the people if there is a disagreement with the local prosecutor.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Michigan's MCL 14.28 grants discretionary authority identical to Minnesota's § 8.01 — the AG may act "when in his own judgment the interests of the state require it." Michigan's courts have affirmed concurrent and even superseding criminal authority. Michigan describes this; Defendant disclaims it.

24. MISSISSIPPI — Public Integrity Division

URL: <https://www.ago.state.ms.us/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Miss. Code §§ 7-5-1, 7-5-37, 7-5-54, 7-5-59, 7-5-67

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The AG's office investigates and prosecutes official corruption and white-collar crimes. Investigators in the Public Integrity Division are "empowered to make arrests and serve and execute search warrants and other valid legal process anywhere within Mississippi."

Statutory Text:

Miss. Code § 7-5-54: "The Attorney General shall prosecute, in person or by designated staff attorney, criminal matters and cases investigated by him pursuant to Section 7-5-59."

Miss. Code § 7-5-59: The Attorney General shall investigate official corruption, other white collar crimes, and computer crimes.

Miss. Code § 7-5-37: The Attorney General shall "prosecute all suits in any court in which the state is a party or has an interest."

Authority type: Independent for public corruption, white collar crimes, and computer crimes. The AG's investigators have arrest and search warrant authority statewide.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Mississippi's AG has independent statutory authority to investigate and prosecute "computer crimes" — directly relevant to Plaintiff's case involving network attacks. Mississippi's Public Integrity Division investigators have statewide arrest power. Defendant disclaims even investigation authority.

25. MISSOURI — Special Prosecutions Unit

URL: <https://ago.mo.gov/divisions/public-safety/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Mo. Rev. Stat. § 27.030

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The Special Prosecutions Unit "is involved in a wide range of criminal prosecutions at the investigation and trial level throughout Missouri, many of them homicide cases and child sexual abuse cases."

Statutory Text:

Mo. Rev. Stat. § 27.030: "When directed by the governor, the attorney general, or one of his assistants, shall aid any prosecuting or circuit attorney in the discharge of their respective duties in the trial courts and in examinations before grand juries, and when so directed by the trial court, he may sign indictments in lieu of the prosecuting attorney."

Authority type: Governor-directed assistance, with authority to sign indictments and appear before grand juries. The AG can stand in the shoes of the local prosecutor when directed.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Missouri's AG is involved in "criminal prosecutions at the investigation and trial level throughout Missouri" — including homicide cases. Even under a Governor-direction model, Missouri openly describes its prosecution role. Defendant disclaims authority that is broader than Missouri's.

26. MONTANA — Criminal Investigation Division

URL: <https://dojmt.gov/attorney-generals-office/roles-responsibilities/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Mont. Code Ann. § 2-15-501

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The Attorney General "at the request of local, state or federal law enforcement agencies, can investigate criminal violations of law" and exercises "supervisory authority over the State's 56 county attorneys."

The Attorney General's authority, duties, and responsibilities include:

"Establish and maintain a criminal justice information telecommunications network for connecting federal, state, county, and city law enforcement agencies." Mont. Code Ann. § 44-2-301.

"Prosecute criminal actions for violations of Montana's unemployment insurance laws." Mont. Code Ann. § 39-51-309.

"Prosecute all public offenses involving a state agency as reported by the Montana Legislative Auditor." Mont. Code Ann. § 5-13-310.

"Investigate and prosecute Medicaid fraud." Mont. Code Ann. § 53-6-156.

"Provide legal advice and services for Montana's Workers' Compensation Fund (State Fund), and prosecute all workers' compensation fraud cases." Mont. Code Ann. §§ 2-15-2015, 39-71-206.

"The above list is not intended to be a complete compilation of all authority, duties, and responsibilities of the Attorney General."

Statutory Text:

Mont. Code Ann. § 2-15-501: The Attorney General has authority to "institute and diligently prosecute in the proper court and in the name of the state of Montana any criminal or civil action or special proceeding."

Mont. Code Ann. § 2-15-501: The Attorney General shall "exercise supervisory powers over county attorneys in all matters pertaining to the duties of their offices" including the power to "order and direct county attorneys in all matters pertaining to the duties of their office." The county attorney shall, "when ordered or directed by the attorney general, promptly institute and diligently prosecute in the proper court and in the name of the state of Montana any criminal or civil action or special proceeding."

Authority type: Supervisory with directive authority. The AG can order county attorneys to prosecute and can initiate prosecution directly. Montana's website affirmatively lists multiple independent criminal prosecution mandates and expressly states the list is not complete.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Montana's AG website lists multiple mandatory criminal prosecution duties — unemployment fraud, legislative auditor referrals, Medicaid fraud, workers' compensation fraud — and closes with an express statement that the list is not complete. This is the mirror image of Defendant's posture: Montana tells the public its criminal authority is broader than what the website describes; Defendant tells the public he has none. Montana's § 2-15-501 independently authorizes the AG to "institute and diligently prosecute...any criminal or civil action" — comparable to Minnesota's § 8.31 mandatory investigation duty. Defendant disclaims his.

27. NEBRASKA — Criminal Bureau / Child Protection Division

URL: <https://ago.nebraska.gov/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Neb. Rev. Stat. § 84-205

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The AG's office operates a Criminal Bureau and a mandatory Child Protection Division staffed by experienced criminal prosecutors.

Statutory Text:

Neb. Rev. Stat. § 84-205: The Attorney General must "appear for the state and prosecute and defend all civil or criminal actions and proceedings in the Court of Appeals or Supreme Court in which the state is interested or a party."

Neb. Rev. Stat. § 84-205: "The Attorney General is clothed with power to prosecute criminal actions in any county in the state."

Neb. Rev. Stat. § 84-205: The Child Protection Division "shall, upon the receipt of a written request, investigate the matter and either decline to prosecute the matter or initiate the appropriate criminal proceedings in a court of proper jurisdiction" when a county attorney declines to prosecute crimes against children.

Authority type: Independent statewide criminal prosecution authority. The AG is "clothed with power" to prosecute in any county — among the broadest statutory grants.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Nebraska's AG is "clothed with power to prosecute criminal actions in any county in the state" — mandatory, statewide, independent authority paralleling Minnesota's § 8.31. Nebraska describes this power; Defendant disclaims his.

28. NEVADA — Special Prosecutions Division

URL: https://ag.nv.gov/About/Criminal_Justice/Special_Prosecutions/

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: N.R.S. §§ 228.120, 228.125

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The Special Prosecutions Division "exercises the Office's general jurisdiction to conduct any prosecution in any court of this State for a violation of any law of the State under NRS 228.120 and 228.125."

Statutory Text:

N.R.S. § 228.120: The Attorney General may "appear before any grand jury when in their opinion it is necessary, and present evidence of the commission of a crime or violation of any law of this State."

N.R.S. § 228.120: The Attorney General may "exercise supervisory powers over all district attorneys of the State in all matters pertaining to the duties of their offices."

N.R.S. § 228.120: The Attorney General may "appear in, take exclusive charge of and conduct any prosecution in any court of this State for a violation of any law of this State, when in their opinion it is necessary, or when requested to do so by the Governor."

Authority type: Independent and exclusive. The AG can "take exclusive charge of and conduct any prosecution" when the AG deems it necessary — one of the broadest grants in the nation.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Nevada's AG can "take exclusive charge" of any prosecution statewide — authority comparable to California's § 12550. Nevada's NRS 228.120 and Minnesota's § 8.31 both use mandatory language for investigation duties. Nevada describes this authority; Defendant disclaims his.

29. NEW HAMPSHIRE — Criminal Justice Bureau

URL: <https://www.doj.nh.gov/criminal-justice/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: N.H. RSA 7:6

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The AG's office has mandatory prosecution authority for the most serious felonies and general supervisory authority over all criminal law enforcement in the state.

Statutory Text:

N.H. RSA 7:6: "The attorney general shall act as attorney for the state in all criminal and civil cases in the supreme court in which the state is interested, and in the prosecution of persons accused of crimes punishable with death or imprisonment for life."

N.H. RSA 7:6: The attorney general "shall have and exercise general supervision of the criminal cases pending before the supreme and superior courts of the state, and with the aid of the county attorneys, the attorney general shall enforce the criminal laws of the state."

Authority type: Independent for serious felonies; supervisory over all criminal enforcement. New Hampshire courts have held the Legislature intended to "place ultimate responsibility for criminal law enforcement in the Attorney General."

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

New Hampshire courts have construed RSA 7:6 to "place ultimate responsibility for criminal law enforcement in the Attorney General." Minnesota's § 8.31 uses similar mandatory language. New Hampshire's AG accepts this responsibility; Defendant disclaims it.

11
12 Statutory Text:

13
14 N.J.S.A. 52:17B-107: "Whenever in the opinion of the Attorney General the interests
15 of the State will be furthered by so doing, the Attorney General may supersede a 16 county prosecutor in any investigation, criminal action or proceeding,
17 participate in any investigation, criminal action or proceeding, or initiate any 18 investigation, criminal action or proceeding."

19
20 N.J.S.A. 52:17B-107: "Whenever a person's death occurs during an encounter with a 21 police officer... the Attorney General shall supersede the county prosecutor of the 22 county in which the incident occurred."

23
24 Authority type: Independent with supersession authority — among the strongest in the 25 nation. The AG can initiate, participate in, or supersede any criminal investigation or 26 prosecution statewide.

27
28 Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

29 New Jersey's AG can "initiate any investigation, criminal action or proceeding" —
30 independent, discretionary authority paralleling Minnesota's § 8.31 mandatory investigation
31 duty. New Jersey describes this as "statewide authority"; Defendant disclaims his.
32
33

34 31. NEW MEXICO — Criminal Affairs Division

35 URL: <https://nmdoj.gov/about-the-office/criminal-affairs/>

36 Accessed: March 23, 2026

37 Statutory Authority: NMSA § 8-5-2

38
39 Website Language (Exact Quote):

40
41 The AG has "statutory jurisdiction when any district attorney either refers and/or fails 42 to prosecute any criminal matter."

43
44 Statutory Text:

45
46 NMSA § 8-5-2: The Attorney General shall "prosecute and defend in any other
47 court or tribunal all actions and proceedings, civil or criminal, in which the state
48 may be a party or interested when, in his judgment, the interest of the state
49 requires such action or when requested to do so by the governor."
50

NMSA § 8-5-2: The Attorney General shall "attend and assist in the trial of any indictment or information in any county on direction of the governor."

Authority type: Hybrid — independent when "in his judgment, the interest of the state requires" plus Governor-directed plus jurisdiction when local DA fails to prosecute.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

New Mexico's AG has authority to prosecute "when, in his judgment, the interest of the state requires" — discretionary language mirroring Minnesota's § 8.01 and Iowa's § 13.2. New Mexico describes this authority; Defendant disclaims his.

32. NEW YORK — Criminal Justice Division

URL: <https://ag.ny.gov/about/about-office/criminal-justice-division>

Accessed: March 18, 2026

Statutory Authority: Executive Law § 63; Executive Law § 70-a (1970)

Website Language (Exact Quote):

"The Attorney General's unique statewide criminal jurisdiction enables the Criminal Enforcement and Financial Crimes Bureau to address criminal conduct throughout the state, including complex financial crimes that cross county lines."

"The Attorney General's Statewide Organized Crime Task Force (OCTF) was established by the Legislature in 1970 through the enactment of Section 70-a of the New York State Executive Law. OCTF is responsible for investigating and prosecuting multi-county, multi-state, and multi-national organized criminal activities occurring within the state."

The division employs "over 200 sworn police officer and civil investigators."

Statutory Text:

N.Y. Exec. Law § 63(2): When required by the governor, the AG shall attend criminal proceedings and "exercise all the powers and perform all the duties in respect of such actions or proceedings, which the district attorney would otherwise be authorized or required to exercise or perform."

N.Y. Exec. Law § 63(3): Upon request of specified officials, the AG shall "investigate the alleged commission of any indictable offense or offenses in violation of the law... and to prosecute the person or persons believed to have committed the same."

N.Y. Exec. Law § 63(8): "Whenever in his judgment the public interest requires it, the attorney-general may, with the approval of the governor... inquire into matters concerning the public peace, public safety and public justice."

Authority type: Request-based with full DA-equivalent powers when activated. Once triggered, the AG has the broadest possible scope — "any indictable offense."

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

New York's AG describes criminal jurisdiction that was "established by the Legislature" — the same source Defendant claims "did not delegate" authority. The contrast is definitive: when legislatures delegate criminal authority to AGs, AGs describe it. Defendant's disclaimer is a fabrication, not a description of legislative intent.

33. NORTH CAROLINA — Special Prosecution Division

URL: <https://ncdoj.gov/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: N.C.G.S. §§ 114-2, 114-11.6

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The Special Prosecution Division attorneys "shall be available to prosecute or assist in the prosecution of criminal cases when requested to do so by a district attorney and the Attorney General approves."

Statutory Text:

N.C.G.S. § 114-2: The Attorney General must "defend all actions in the appellate division in which the State shall be interested, or a party, and appear for the State in any other court or tribunal in any cause or matter, civil or criminal, in which the State may be a party or interested."

N.C.G.S. § 114-2: The Attorney General must "consult with and advise the prosecutors, when requested by them, in all matters pertaining to the duties of their office."

Authority type: Request-based prosecution with mandatory appellate representation and advisory role. The AG can prosecute when requested by a district attorney.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

North Carolina's AG appears in "any cause or matter, civil or criminal, in which the State may be a party or interested" — paralleling Minnesota's § 8.01. Even with a primarily request-based model, North Carolina describes its prosecution division; Defendant disclaims authority.

Statutory Text:

N.D.C.C. § 54-12-01: The AG's Bureau of Criminal Investigation is involved in "the investigation, arrest, detection, prosecution, or suppression of crimes when directed by the attorney general."

Upon request of a state's attorney, an assistant attorney general may be assigned to provide prosecution assistance to the county.

Authority type: Request-based for prosecution, but the AG directs the state's criminal investigative agency (BCI) independently. BCI operates as the statewide investigative arm.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

North Dakota's BCI is the "state criminal investigative agency" under the AG's direction. Even in a primarily request-based model, North Dakota describes its criminal investigation role. Defendant disclaims the investigation authority that Minnesota's § 8.31 makes mandatory.

35. OHIO — Bureau of Criminal Investigation

URL: <https://www.ohioattorneygeneral.gov/Law-Enforcement/Bureau-of-Criminal-Investigation/Investigative-Services>

Accessed: March 18, 2026

Statutory Authority: Ohio Rev. Code § 109.51 et seq.

Website Language (Exact Quote):

"Agents from the Special Investigations Unit investigate and help local officers solve major felony-level cases, including, among other crimes, homicides, cold cases, financial crimes, public corruption, OHLEG misuse and voter fraud."

"In the vast majority of cases, these BCI special agents can investigate only when their help is requested by a local law enforcement agency or prosecutor's office."

Statutory Text:

Ohio Rev. Code § 109.02: "The attorney general is the chief law officer for the state and all its departments." "Upon the written request of the governor, the attorney general shall prosecute any person indicted for a crime."

Ohio Rev. Code § 109.83(B)(1): When information is referred by organized crime task force, the AG "shall initiate a criminal action or proceeding in a court of proper jurisdiction" and "the attorney general has sole responsibility to prosecute the accused offender."

Authority type: Request-based for general crimes; mandatory sole prosecution for organized crime task force referrals. Even with this request requirement, Ohio openly describes its investigative authority.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Ohio is the most request-dependent AG model examined — yet even Ohio does not disclaim criminal investigation authority. Ohio describes what it investigates and notes the request limitation transparently. Defendant's approach — affirmatively denying authority exists — is more restrictive than the most limited AG model in the comparison.

36. OKLAHOMA — Criminal Division

URL: <https://www.oag.ok.gov/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: 74 O.S. § 18b

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The AG may investigate and prosecute criminal matters including insurance fraud, public corruption, and has authority to convene multicounty grand juries.

Statutory Text:

74 O.S. § 18b: The Attorney General may "initiate or appear in any action in which the interests of the state or the people of the state are at issue" and "prosecute and defend in any court or before any commission, board or officers any cause or proceeding, civil or criminal, in which the state may be a party or interested."

74 O.S. § 18b: "When appearing in such proceedings, the Attorney General may, if deemed advisable and in the best interest of the state, take and assume control of the prosecution or defense of the state's interest."

74 O.S. § 18b: The Attorney General "may convene multicounty grand juries in such manner and for such purposes as provided by law."

Authority type: Independent with multicounty grand jury power. The AG can "initiate" actions, "take and assume control" of prosecutions, and convene multicounty grand juries.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Oklahoma's AG can "initiate" criminal proceedings and "take and assume control" of prosecutions — independent authority paralleling Minnesota's § 8.31. Oklahoma can convene multicounty grand juries for exactly the type of multi-jurisdictional crime Plaintiff reported; Defendant denied having any authority.

37. OREGON — Criminal Justice Division

URL: <https://www.doj.state.or.us/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: ORS §§ 180.060, 180.070, 180.080

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The AG "shall consult with, advise and direct the district attorneys in all criminal causes and matters relating to state affairs."

Statutory Text:

ORS 180.060: The Attorney General may "appear for the state when required by the Governor or the legislature in any court or tribunal in any cause in which the state is a party or in which the state is directly interested."

ORS 180.060: The Attorney General "shall consult with, advise and direct the district attorneys in all criminal causes and matters relating to state affairs in their respective counties."

ORS 180.070: "In making investigations of and conducting special prosecutions for violations or alleged violations of the criminal laws of the state, the Attorney General may call upon the Department of State Police or any other peace officer or department for assistance in making such investigations or may employ special investigators for such purpose."

Authority type: Hybrid — advisory and directive authority over district attorneys plus authority to conduct special prosecutions and criminal investigations independently.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Oregon's AG can "direct the district attorneys" and conduct "investigations of and... special prosecutions for violations of the criminal laws" — supervisory and independent investigation authority paralleling Minnesota's §§ 8.06 and 8.31. Oregon describes this; Defendant disclaims it.

38. PENNSYLVANIA — Criminal Law Division

URL: <https://www.attorneygeneral.gov/criminal-law-division/>

Accessed: March 18, 2026

Statutory Authority: Commonwealth Attorneys Act of 1980 (Act 164) + 30 additional statutes

Website Language (Exact Quote):

"The Commonwealth Attorneys' Act and thirty additional statutes provide extensive powers of prosecution to the Attorney General."

The Criminal Law Division is "responsible for investigating drug trafficking, child predators, organized crime, public corruption, insurance fraud and other criminal violations."

Authority extends to "criminal matters relating to the public duties of state officials and employees," "corrupt organizations," "presentments returned by a Statewide Investigating Grand Jury," and "matters arising out of the Medicaid Fraud Control Section."

Also may "prosecute referrals from a district attorney based on lack of resources or a conflict of interest."

Statutory Text:

71 P.S. § 732-205(a): "The Attorney General shall have the power to prosecute in any county criminal court" specified categories including public corruption, corrupt organizations, grand jury presentments, and Medicaid fraud.

71 P.S. § 732-206(a): "The Attorney General shall be the chief law enforcement officer of the Commonwealth" with power to investigate offenses prosecutable under Section 205.

Authority type: Enumerated independent authority. The AG has direct, independent prosecution power for specified categories without requiring permission from district attorneys.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Pennsylvania operates a concurrent model with district attorneys, accepting referrals while maintaining independent authority under over 30 statutes. The AG openly describes "extensive powers of prosecution" — the opposite of Defendant's claim that the Legislature "did not delegate such authority."

39. RHODE ISLAND — Criminal Division

URL: <https://riag.ri.gov/about-our-office/divisions-and-units/criminal-division>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: R.I. Gen. Laws § 42-9-6; R.I. Const. Art. IX, § 12

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The Criminal Division is "responsible for the prosecution of all felony criminal cases, misdemeanor appeals, and misdemeanor cases brought by state law enforcement action in the various district courts."

Statutory Text:

R.I. Gen. Laws § 42-9-6: The Attorney General shall act as legal adviser and representative of the state. The AG has the power to initiate criminal investigations for violations of the law through the Office of Investigation.

R.I. Const. Art. IX, § 12: Establishes the Attorney General as the state's chief law enforcement officer.

Authority type: Primary and independent. Rhode Island, like Alaska and Delaware, has no county prosecutors. The AG prosecutes all felonies statewide — one of only a handful of states with this structure.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Rhode Island's AG prosecutes "all felony criminal cases" statewide — there are no district attorneys. This is the broadest possible model. Rhode Island describes this as its core function; Defendant disclaims even the investigation authority that Minnesota's statutes mandate.

40. SOUTH CAROLINA — Criminal Division / State Grand Jury

URL: <https://www.scag.gov/inside-the-office/criminal-division/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: S.C. Code §§ 1-7-40; S.C. Const. Art. V, § 24

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The AG has "supervisory authority over the prosecution of any and all criminal cases in the State of South Carolina" and oversees "the activities of the State Grand Jury including the prosecution of multi-jurisdictional drug offenders, obscenity, public corruption, election fraud, computer crime violations, terrorism, and securities fraud."

Statutory Text:

S.C. Code § 1-7-40: The Attorney General "shall appear for the State in the Supreme Court and the court of appeals in the trial and argument of all causes, criminal and civil, in which the State is a party or interested."

S.C. Const. Art. V, § 24: Designates the Attorney General as "Chief Prosecuting Officer for the State."

Authority type: Constitutional chief prosecutor with supervisory authority over all criminal cases and direct prosecution through the State Grand Jury for multi-jurisdictional crimes.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

South Carolina's AG has constitutional designation as "Chief Prosecuting Officer" with supervisory authority over "all criminal cases" — including "computer crime violations." Plaintiff's referral involved computer crimes. South Carolina describes prosecution authority over this exact category; Defendant disclaims any authority.

41. SOUTH DAKOTA — Division of Criminal Investigation

URL: <https://dci.sd.gov/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: SDCL §§ 1-11-1, 1-11-2

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The AG's Division of Criminal Investigation provides investigative services and the AG "prosecutes state crimes and represents state agencies."

Statutory Text:

SDCL § 1-11-1: The Attorney General must prosecute "upon request by the Governor, either branch of the Legislature, or when the Attorney General determines the welfare of the state requires it, actions in any court or before any officer where the state is a party or has an interest."

SDCL § 1-11-2: The Attorney General has "concurrent jurisdiction with the state's attorneys in all criminal proceedings in any court within South Dakota."

Authority type: Concurrent statewide jurisdiction plus independent discretion when "the welfare of the state requires it." The AG has criminal jurisdiction equal to all local state's attorneys.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

South Dakota's AG has "concurrent jurisdiction... in all criminal proceedings" statewide — broader than even Minnesota's § 8.31 in scope. South Dakota describes this concurrent authority; Defendant disclaims any jurisdiction.

42. TENNESSEE — Law Enforcement and Special Prosecutions Division

URL: <https://www.tn.gov/attorneygeneral/about-the-office/divisions.html>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: T.C.A. §§ 8-6-109, 8-6-112

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The Law Enforcement and Special Prosecutions Division "investigates and prosecutes certain civil enforcement actions, forfeitures, and ousters, as well as all matters within the Attorney General's limited original criminal jurisdiction."

Statutory Text:

T.C.A. § 8-6-109(b): The Attorney General shall attend to "all business of the state, both civil and criminal in the court of appeals, court of criminal appeals and the supreme court."

T.C.A. § 8-6-112: The Attorney General has authority to "conduct an investigation and initiate criminal prosecution" of judges, judicial officials, or district attorneys when the local prosecutor has a conflict of interest. When doing so, the AG may "exercise all the powers and perform all the duties before any court or grand jury that the district attorney general would otherwise be authorized or required to exercise or perform."

Authority type: Limited original criminal jurisdiction with specific authority to prosecute judicial and prosecutorial officials. Full DA-equivalent powers when activated.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Tennessee's AG has "limited original criminal jurisdiction" — yet describes it openly on its website. When activated, the AG exercises "all the powers" of a district attorney general.

1 Defendant claims he has no criminal authority at all, which is more restrictive than
 2 Tennessee's already limited model.

43. TEXAS — Criminal Investigation Division

6 URL: https://www.texasattorneygeneral.gov/divisions/law-enforcement/criminal-
 7 investigations

8 Accessed: March 18, 2026

9 Statutory Authority: Tex. Gov't Code § 402.028
 10

11 Website Language (Exact Quote):

13 The division investigates "both violent crimes and white-collar crimes, including 14 complex fraud crimes, Election Code violations, and public corruption matters."
 15 Also "proactively investigates online child predators and child pornographers."
 16

17 "Criminal Investigation Division is a resource for local and county law enforcement
 18 and prosecution agencies who require investigative and/or prosecution assistance due
 19 to a lack of resources or a conflict of interest."
 20

21 "CID will only become involved in such investigations based on a written request
 22 from the head of those agencies."
 23

24 Statutory Text:

26 Tex. Gov't Code § 402.028(a): "The attorney general may furnish prosecutorial
 27 support at the request of a district attorney, criminal district attorney, or county
 28 attorney."
 29

30 Tex. Gov't Code § 402.028(b): "District attorneys, criminal district attorneys, or 31 county attorneys may appoint and deputize an assistant attorney general as 32 assistant prosecutor."
 33

34 Authority type: Strictly request-based — the weakest grant in this comparison. The AG has 35 no independent criminal prosecution authority; requires affirmative appointment by local 36 prosecutor. Yet even Texas openly describes what its Criminal Investigation Division does 37 rather than disclaiming authority.
 38

39 Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

40 Texas requires a "written request" from local agencies — arguably a more restrictive trigger
 41 than Minnesota's § 8.31 (which requires no request). Yet Texas does not disclaim its 42 authority. It describes its criminal investigation division, its scope, and its limitation —
 43 transparently. Defendant's approach is the opposite: disclaim all authority while exercising it
 44 selectively.
 45

44. UTAH — Criminal Justice Division

48 URL: <https://attorneygeneral.utah.gov/>

1 Accessed: March 23, 2026

2 Statutory Authority: Utah Code § 67-5-1

3
4 Website Language (Exact Quote):

6 The AG exercises supervisory powers over district and county attorneys and 7 investigates and prosecutes criminal cases including white collar crime, computer
8 crimes, and public corruption.
9

10 Statutory Text:

11
12 Utah Code § 67-5-1: The Attorney General shall "exercise supervisory powers over 13 the district and county attorneys of the state in all matters pertaining to the 14 duties of the district and county attorneys' offices."

15
16 Utah Code § 67-5-1: The Attorney General may "institute and prosecute actions 17 necessary to set aside and annul fraudulent conveyances" and shall screen cases for 18 criminal charges within six months when the county or district attorney fails to do so.
19

20 Authority type: Supervisory with independent prosecution for specific categories and 21 backstop authority when local prosecutors fail to act.
22

23 Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

24 Utah's AG has supervisory authority over all county and district attorneys — paralleling
25 Minnesota's § 8.06 directive authority. Utah describes this authority; Defendant disclaims 26 his.
27

28
29 45. VERMONT — Criminal Division

30 URL: <https://ago.vermont.gov/attorney-generals-office-divisions-and-unit/criminal-division>

31 Accessed: March 23, 2026

32 Statutory Authority: 3 V.S.A. §§ 152, 153

33
34 Website Language (Exact Quote):

35
36 The Criminal Division "prosecutes complex cases with a focus on matters that are 37 statewide in nature or require significant resources or expertise beyond those 38 normally available at the county level, which include the prioritization of homicides,
39 sexual assaults, and child abuse."
40

41 Statutory Text:

42
43 3 V.S.A. § 152: "The Attorney General may represent the state in all civil and
44 criminal matters as at common law and as allowed by statute. The Attorney General
45 shall also have the same authority throughout the state as a state's attorney."
46

47 3 V.S.A. § 153: "The Attorney General shall have the general supervision of 48 criminal prosecutions, shall consult with and advise the State's Attorneys in matters
49 relating to the duties of their office, and shall assist them by attending the grand jury
50 in the examination of any cause or in the preparation of indictments and informations
51 when, in his or her judgment, the interests of the State require it."

Authority type: Independent with full state's attorney authority statewide. The AG has "the same authority throughout the state as a state's attorney" — making the AG a universal concurrent prosecutor.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Vermont's AG has "the same authority throughout the state as a state's attorney" — explicit concurrent jurisdiction paralleling Minnesota's § 8.31. Vermont's AG also has "general supervision of criminal prosecutions." Vermont describes this dual authority; Defendant disclaims both.

46. VIRGINIA — Criminal Litigation Section

URL: <https://www.oag.state.va.us/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Va. Code § 2.2-511

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The AG handles criminal appeals and has original prosecution authority for enumerated categories of crime.

Statutory Text:

Va. Code § 2.2-511: "Unless specifically requested by the Governor to do so, the Attorney General shall have no authority to institute or conduct criminal prosecutions in the circuit courts of the Commonwealth except in cases involving" violations of the ABC Act, election laws, motor vehicle laws, handling of state funds, theft of state property, child pornography, the unauthorized practice of law, certain agricultural statutes, and — "with the concurrence of the local attorney for the Commonwealth, violations of the Virginia Computer Crimes Act."

Authority type: Enumerated categories only, with Governor-request expansion. Virginia's statute is notable for explicitly including computer crimes (with local concurrence) among the AG's prosecution categories.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Virginia explicitly enumerates the AG's criminal prosecution categories — including "violations of the Virginia Computer Crimes Act." Even Virginia's restrictive model acknowledges AG authority over computer crimes. Plaintiff's referral documented computer crimes; Defendant disclaimed all authority.

47. WASHINGTON — Criminal Litigation Division

URL: <https://www.atg.wa.gov/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: RCW §§ 43.10.030, 43.10.232

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The AG has "concurrent authority and power with the prosecuting attorneys to investigate crimes and initiate and conduct prosecutions."

Statutory Text:

RCW 43.10.030: The Attorney General shall "consult with and advise the prosecuting attorneys when the interests of the state so require," and "when the interests of the state require, attend the trial of any person accused of a crime and assist in the prosecution."

RCW 43.10.232: "The attorney general shall have concurrent authority and power with the prosecuting attorneys to investigate crimes and initiate and conduct prosecutions upon the request of or with the concurrence of the county prosecuting attorney."

RCW 43.10.232: "If after investigation the attorney general believes that criminal laws are improperly enforced in any county and that the prosecuting attorney has failed or neglected to institute and prosecute violations of such criminal laws, the attorney general may direct the prosecuting attorney to take action, and if the prosecuting attorney fails to comply within a reasonable time, the attorney general may initiate and prosecute such criminal actions as determined necessary."

Authority type: Concurrent with supersession backstop. The AG can initiate prosecution independently when local prosecutors fail to enforce criminal laws — the strongest backstop mechanism.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Washington's AG can "initiate and prosecute" criminal actions when local prosecutors fail to act — a direct backstop paralleling Minnesota's § 8.31. Washington describes this as concurrent authority; Defendant disclaims the authority that Minnesota's statutes make mandatory.

48. WEST VIRGINIA — Criminal Law Division

URL: <https://ago.wv.gov/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: W. Va. Code § 5-3-2

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The AG provides advice and consultation to county prosecuting attorneys and has exclusive responsibility for all criminal appeals and habeas corpus proceedings.

Statutory Text:

W. Va. Code § 5-3-2: The Attorney General "shall appear as counsel for the state in all causes pending in the Supreme Court of Appeals, or in any federal court, in which the state is interested; and shall appear in any cause in which the state is interested that is pending in any other court in the state, on the written request of the Governor."

W. Va. Code § 5-3-2: The Attorney General shall "institute and prosecute all civil actions and proceedings in favor of or for the use of the state."

Recent legislative amendments have provided the Attorney General with "non-exclusive prosecutorial authority over public integrity cases" and jurisdiction to investigate and prosecute matters arising before the West Virginia Ethics Commission.

Authority type: Request-based for general criminal matters, with independent authority for public integrity cases and mandatory representation in appellate and federal courts.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

West Virginia's AG has mandatory federal court representation (paralleling Minnesota's § 8.01) and recently expanded public integrity prosecution authority. Even West Virginia's primarily civil-focused AG office does not disclaim its criminal role — it describes it accurately.

49. WISCONSIN — Division of Criminal Investigation

URL: <https://www.wisdoj.gov/Pages/AboutUs/doj.aspx>

Accessed: March 18, 2026

Statutory Authority: Wis. Stat. § 165.25; § 165.055

Website Language (Exact Quote):

"The Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI) is charged with investigating crimes of statewide nature, importance or influence."

"DCI employs sworn law enforcement officers with statewide jurisdiction."

"DCI Special Agents and criminal analysts work closely with local, county, tribal, state, and federal law enforcement officials to investigate and prosecute a broad array of crimes, including homicide, arson, financial crimes, illegal gaming, multi-jurisdictional crimes, drug trafficking, internet crimes against children, human trafficking, sexual assault, cybercrimes, homeland security, public integrity, and government corruption."

Statutory Text:

Wis. Stat. § 165.25(1m): If requested by the governor or either house of the legislature, the AG shall "appear for and represent the state... in any civil or criminal matter, and prosecute or defend in any court or before any officer, any cause or matter, civil or criminal, in which the state or the people of this state may be interested."

Authority type: Request-based. Even under a request-only model, Wisconsin openly describes its criminal investigation division rather than disclaiming authority.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Wisconsin operates a concurrent jurisdiction model with county district attorneys, comparable to Minnesota's Chapter 8/Chapter 388 framework. Wisconsin's AG openly describes investigation of "crimes of statewide nature" — precisely the scope Minnesota's § 8.31 mandates but Defendant disclaims.

50. WYOMING — Division of Criminal Investigation

URL: <https://attorneygeneral.wyo.gov/>

Accessed: March 23, 2026

Statutory Authority: Wyo. Stat. § 9-1-603

Website Language (Exact Quote):

The AG operates a Division of Criminal Investigation and can "act on behalf of the county, state or any agency thereof" when local prosecutors fail to act.

Statutory Text:

Wyo. Stat. § 9-1-603: The Attorney General shall "Prosecute and defend all suits instituted by or against the state of Wyoming" and "Represent the state in criminal cases in the supreme court."

Wyo. Stat. § 9-1-603: "Upon the failure or refusal of any district or county attorney to act in any criminal or civil case or matter in which the county, state or any agency thereof is a party, or has an interest, the attorney general may... act on behalf of the county, state or any agency thereof, if after a thorough investigation the action is deemed advisable by the attorney general."

Wyo. Stat. § 9-1-603: "When requested by a county or district attorney, the attorney general may assign a member of his staff who is experienced in trial work and in the prosecution of criminal cases to assist in the prosecution of a felony."

Authority type: Backstop authority when local prosecutors fail to act, plus request-based felony prosecution assistance.

Structural Comparison to Minnesota:

Wyoming's AG can step in "upon the failure or refusal" of local prosecutors — a backstop authority paralleling Minnesota's § 8.01 and § 8.31. Even Wyoming's limited model does not disclaim authority; it describes conditions for activation. Defendant disclaims authority that his statutes make mandatory.

How Can We Help?

The Minnesota Attorney General's Office appreciates hearing from members of the public. In many cases, we are able to provide direct assistance to people. Hearing from members of the public also alerts us to problems occurring in the marketplace. More information on the ways in which the Attorney General's Office tries to help people include:

Consumer Assistance Hotline

The Attorney General's Office is often able to answer questions over the phone or talk through a problem to determine whether a written complaint should be filed with the Office. You may contact the Attorney General's Office by phone as follows:

Office of Minnesota Attorney General Keith Ellison
(651) 296-3353 (Twin Cities Calling Area) or (800) 657-3787 (Outside the Twin Cities)
(800) 627-3529 (Minnesota Relay)

Direct Assistance to Consumers

In some cases, the Attorney General's Office is able to help people resolve problems with a business by contacting the organization. We call this process "mediation." While the mediation process often results in successful outcomes, it should be noted that we do not license businesses and cannot simply order a business to take a particular course of action in a given matter. If you have experienced a problem, we want to hear from you. For more information on filing a written complaint with the Attorney General's Office, see the webpage Consumer Complaints.

Assistance in Locating Other Government Agencies

In some cases, the Attorney General's Office is able to assist people in locating other government agencies that may be able to help address (or should be alerted to) a problem. For example, some businesses (such as banks, insurance companies, HMOs, debt collection agencies, car dealers, and many others) are licensed by other government agencies. In some cases, a licensing agency may be able to take disciplinary action against a company's license or suspend the company's authority to operate. For these reasons, we often recommend that people also contact other government agencies. More information on some of these government agencies can be found on the Government Resources webpage.

Enforcement of Criminal Laws

The Minnesota Legislature has designated the county attorney as the official with authority to prosecute crimes in Minnesota and has designated the local police or sheriff's department as the agency with the authority to investigate alleged criminal violations. In addition, other federal criminal agencies, such as the FBI, U.S. Attorney, U.S. Postal Inspector, etc., have authority to investigate violations of various federal criminal laws. If you believe that your problem involves a crime that should be investigated and/or prosecuted, we encourage you to contact those agencies. Contact information for county attorney and sheriff offices in Minnesota is available on the Government Resources webpage.

We Cannot Give Legal Advice to Individuals

The Minnesota Attorney General's Office is not authorized to give specific legal advice to individuals or act on behalf of individuals in private legal matters. If you feel you need legal advice and want an attorney to advise you, the Minnesota State Bar Association's Attorney Referral Service is available on the Internet at www.mnfindalawyer.com. A flyer called Hiring an Attorney is also available on the Attorney General's website, which provides tips on locating and retaining an attorney.

Crime Victim Rights

Crime victim's participation in the criminal justice process is important. Crime victims are afforded specific rights by state and federal law. Most often those rights remain unknown until a person learns that, as a consequence of the criminal acts of another, they are a crime victim. Services are available to assist crime victims with understanding their rights, ensure their participation in the criminal justice process, and maintain communication between the victim and the victim service provider. To learn more about your rights as a crime victim, view our brochures:

Crime Victims Reparations Board

The Crime Victims Reparations Board is a program that helps crime victims with financial losses and recovery from violent crime. A claim for payment of costs (such as medical care, counseling, lost wages, child care, or funeral expenses) incurred by crime victims as a result of a violent crime may be submitted to the Crime Victims Reparations Board for compensation. Reparations are not available to compensate crime victims for property losses. The crime must have been reported to law enforcement when it occurred. The crime victim must file a claim with the Crime Victims Reparations Board within three years of the incident. Claim forms are available here. For more information or to file a claim, contact the Crime Victims Reparations Board as follows:

Prosecuting Crimes

Illinois Attorney General's Office is responsible for bringing justice in several specific areas of serious criminal activity.

Investigating and Prosecuting Serious Crimes that Cross County Lines

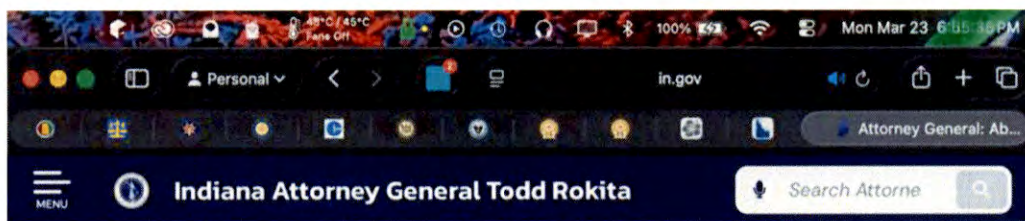

The Statewide Grand Jury Bureau charges and prosecutes major multi-county drug, money-laundering, and gun crimes throughout the state. Many of these cases involve complex, long-term investigations, typically against mid- and high-level drug dealers. The Bureau has original jurisdiction over these offenses and its authority comes from the Statewide Grand Jury Act, 725 ILCS 215/1, et seq. Its grand jury sits in Dixon for eighteen months and hears nothing but SWGJ cases. SWGJ AAGs are active in courtrooms around the state. SWGJ cases are prosecuted vertically, which means the attorneys handle all aspects of a case, from investigative aspects and presenting the case before the grand jury to trial, asset forfeitures and post-conviction motions.

Prosecuting Murder Cases with our Law Enforcement Partners

The Criminal Prosecutions/Trials Assistance Bureau investigates and prosecutes criminal offenses throughout Illinois. The Bureau provides assistance to State's Attorneys in two situations: when a conflict of interest exists that precludes the State's Attorney from prosecuting a case, and when a State's Attorney needs assistance due to the complexity of a case.

Protecting Communities from Sexually Violent Persons

The Attorney General is authorized by statute to conduct Sexually Violent Persons prosecutions. The Sexually Violent Persons Bureau handles sex offender civil commitment cases and sexually dangerous persons prosecutions. Attorneys from our office review cases of violent sex offenders who may need to be in or remain in state custody. The Bureau prosecutes all SVP cases and assists with SDP cases throughout the 102 counties of this State.

ATTORNEY GENERAL
BRENNA BIRD

HOME | ABOUT THE OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL | DIVISIONS | STATEWIDE PROSECUTIONS

Statewide Prosecutions

As Iowa's judicial system is county-based, the offices of Iowa's 99 elected county attorneys handle the vast majority of the state's criminal prosecutions.

The Statewide Prosecutions Section's primary focus is prosecuting major criminal cases that county attorneys refer to the Attorney General. Such referrals are made in two general circumstances: (1) when the county attorney has a conflict of interest that prevents that county attorney from acting in an investigation or prosecution, and (2) when an especially serious or complicated case requires prosecution resources in addition to those already available in the county attorney's office.

Statewide Prosecutions Section attorneys specialize in major felony prosecutions, including cases of murder, homicide, kidnapping, sexual abuse, robbery, theft and fraud, child abuse and exploitation, domestic violence, elder abuse, arson, white collar crimes, public corruption, and human trafficking.

Other Responsibilities:

- Prosecutes criminal cases requiring specialized legal training, e.g., Medicaid fraud, violence against women, environmental crime, securities fraud, obscenity, correctional institution crime and tax crimes.
- Prosecutes cases involving allegations of public official misconduct, including all matters brought before the Judicial Qualifications Commission.
- Provides services to crime victims and to those who must appear as witnesses in criminal trials prosecuted by the section.

Sexually Violent Predator Civil Commitments

The Office of the Attorney General has statutory responsibility for the Sexually Violent Predator Program, which is operated under the Statewide Prosecutions Section in conjunction with the Iowa Department of Human Services. Other state agencies including the Department of Corrections, the Judicial Department, and the Department of Public Safety are also involved in implementing the Iowa statute (Iowa Code 229A), which was adopted in 1998. The program has been in operation since 1999.

The Sexually Violent Predator (SVP) program is a long-term, intensive civil commitment treatment program for high-risk offenders. A "sexually violent predator" is defined as "a person who has been convicted of or charged with a sexually violent offense and who suffers from a mental abnormality which makes the person likely to engage in predatory acts constituting sexually violent offenses, if not confined in a secure facility."

In developing the civil commitment program, Iowa officials have had a dual focus. First, careful screening of potential patients results in the selection of the highest risk offenders. Second, the development of a high quality treatment program encourages and motivates sex offenders to understand their offending cycles and develop appropriate methods to control their behavior.

Unlike many other states, Iowa has strictly limited its criteria for admission to the program and, as a result, Iowa's program has seen slow and steady growth with a manageable number of patients in the program. Despite substantial budget constraints, the Iowa program has been able to accommodate new patients, has maintained security appropriately and has focused on the development of a positive, therapeutic environment to enhance treatment. Patients in the program have real hope for changing their behavior, improving their own lives and avoiding re-offense when they are released from treatment.

High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area (HIDTA) Program

In conjunction with Iowa's two U.S. Attorneys, the Office of the Attorney General of Iowa prosecutes drug cases under the federal High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area (HIDTA) program.

The purpose of the program is to reduce drug trafficking and production in the United States by:

- Facilitating cooperation among Federal, State, local, and tribal law enforcement agencies to share information and implement coordinated enforcement activities;
- Enhancing law enforcement intelligence sharing among Federal, State, local, and tribal law enforcement agencies;
- Providing reliable law enforcement intelligence to law enforcement agencies to facilitate the design of effective enforcement strategies and operations; and
- Supporting coordinated law enforcement strategies that make the most of available resources to reduce the supply of illegal drugs in designated areas of the United States and in the nation as a whole.

- Office of the Solicitor General (OSG)
Attorneys in this division represent Kansas' interests in civil and criminal appeals in state and federal courts, and also appear in trial courts for habeas suits and other quasi-appellate proceedings. Attorneys here are also responsible for drafting official Attorney General Opinions in response to inquiries from other government officials.
- Public Protection Division
The Public Protection Division has a wide-ranging mission with one overriding priority: keeping Kansans safe. Its litigators fight to maintain a fair and competitive business environment, ensure all levels of government in our state remain open and transparent, and work to ensure our citizens are safe from sexually violent predators.
 - Attorneys in Antitrust & Business Organizations protect consumer welfare and market competition by enforcing federal and state laws prohibiting restraints on trade—such as coercive behavior, price fixing, engaging in market divisions, and conducting mergers that create monopolies.
 - The Charities & Financial Scams section enforces the Charitable Organizations & Solicitations Act and works to identify bogus charities and other financial scams that are preying on Kansans; this section is a national leader on cryptocurrency issues.
 - Consumer Protection attorneys work to educate consumers and businesses regarding deceptive and unconscionable practices, and sue those who engage in those practices. Our primary focus is preventing future harm to consumers and resolving matters in ways that put money back in consumers' pockets.
 - The Open Government section investigates possible violations of the Kansas Open Meetings Act and Kansas Open Records Act and takes appropriate action when violations are found, including administrative or court proceedings.
 - Finally, the Sexually Violent Predator (SVP) section handles civil commitments under the Sexually Violent Predator Act and handles post-commitment reviews and other proceedings.
- Special Litigation & Constitutional Issues Division
This division handles lawsuits and regulatory comments involving constitutional issues or the Attorney General's important policy priorities. Attorneys in Special Litigation handle high-profile cases such as suing the federal government over unlawful regulations, defending Kansas laws against constitutional challenges, or bringing lawsuits to force local governments or State agencies to comply with the law.

Our Mission

The Independent Investigations Division (IID) investigates all police-involved incidents in Maryland that result in a person's death or injuries likely to lead to death. We provide thorough, impartial investigations to ensure accountability and transparency in law enforcement.

About Us

IID was established by the Maryland General Assembly in 2021 as part of comprehensive police accountability reforms.

Our Authority

The IID's authority has changed since its creation:

- 2021–2023: For incidents before October 1, 2023, the IID conducted investigations and provided detailed reports to the local State's Attorney, who retained sole prosecutorial authority.
- 2023–Present: For incidents occurring on or after October 1, 2023, the IID has both investigative and prosecutorial authority following legislative expansion in 2023.

Investigations

Since October 1, 2021, the IID has conducted 88 investigations into police-involved fatal or near-fatal incidents throughout the State.

A table with all IID Investigations and corresponding press release, organized by calendar year, can be found under "Investigations" on the left. Additional data visualizations, including charts and a map, are available on the "Data and Metrics" page.

Criminal Investigations Division (CID)

Home > About > Bureaus & Divisions > Criminal Investigations Division (CID)

The Criminal Investigations Division (CID) is the sworn Law Enforcement Division within the Attorney General's Office that provides investigative support throughout the State of Michigan. Attorney General Dana Nessel established the Criminal Investigations Division, transforming the way the department managed its investigative resources. The division is led by the Chief of Investigations.

This newly formed division assumed the formidable responsibility of overseeing an extensive spectrum of criminal investigations, ranging from white-collar crimes to corruption and beyond. Over time, the division has undergone continuous growth and refinement, cultivated expertise and broadened its investigative capacities.

Today, the Criminal Investigations Division stands as the central hub for handling all criminal investigations brought before the Department. Within its organizational framework, eight distinct sections have been established, each with a unique investigative mandate. These sections include Financial Crimes, Special Investigations, Major Cases, Executive Protection, Felony Non-Support, Criminal Sexual Conduct, Organized Retail Crime, and Gaming.

Within the Criminal Investigations Division, there are numerous opportunities for Agents to be assigned to State and Federal specialized task forces. Additionally, the Criminal Investigations Division employs individuals with expertise in polygraph examination, digital forensics, and forensic interviewing, among other critical areas that enable the division to conduct comprehensive and effective investigations.

The Public Safety Section is part of the Criminal Litigation Division and works extensively with local prosecutors and State and Federal law enforcement agencies. The Section consists of the Special Prosecutions Unit, Habeas Unit, Sexually Violent Predator Unit (SVP), Victim Services and Legal Support Unit.

The Special Prosecutions Unit is involved in a wide range of criminal prosecutions at the investigation and trial level throughout Missouri, many of them homicide cases and child sexual abuse cases. The Unit's prosecutors are appointed to assist in serious or complex prosecutions at the request of a local prosecutor and by direction of the Governor, pursuant to Section 27.030, RSMo, or are appointed as special prosecutors by a court when local prosecutors have a conflict of interest, under Section 56.110, RSMo.

Roles & Responsibilities

Under Montana law, the Attorney General is the state's chief legal officer, chief law enforcement officer, and director of the Montana Department of Justice. As the State's chief legal officer, the Attorney General is responsible for representing and defending Montana's legal positions and Montana's laws with other sovereign governments such as the federal government and other states.

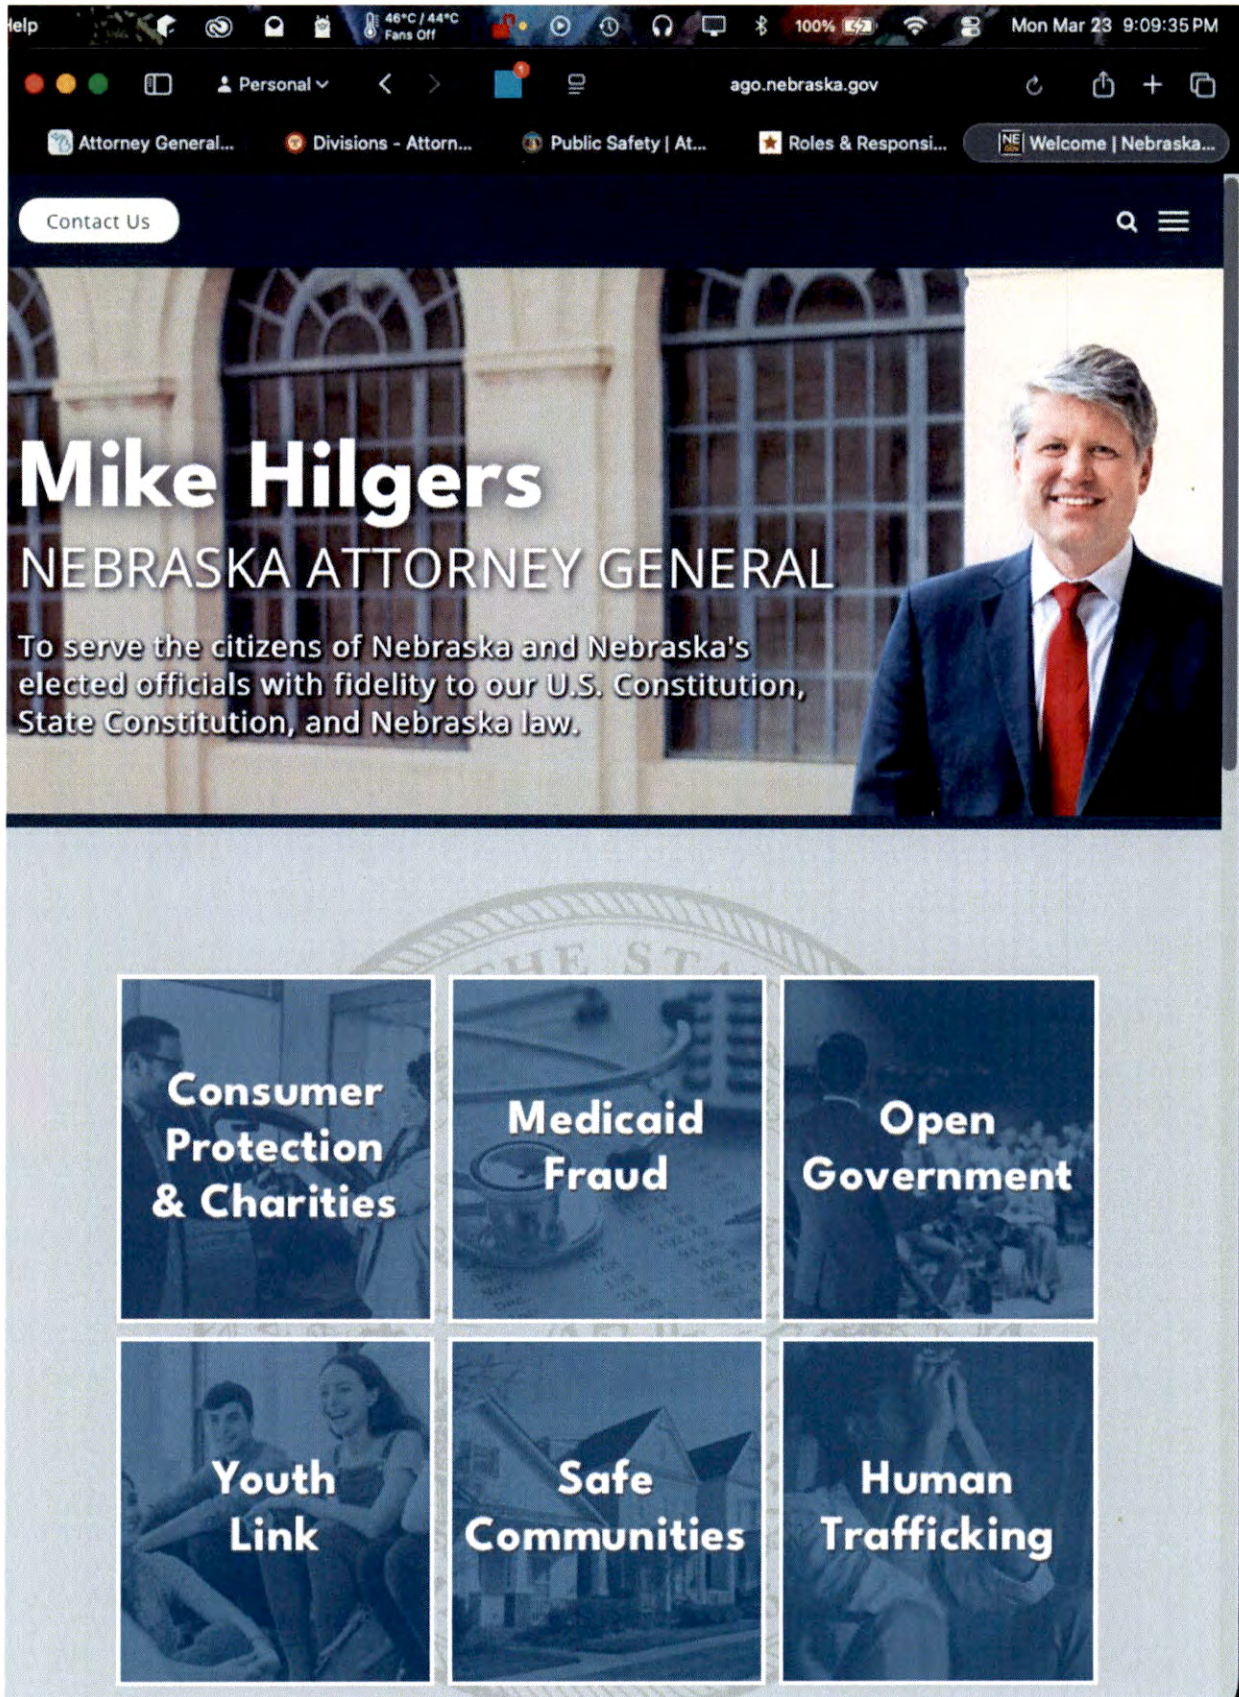

Montana's Constitution provides that "[t]he attorney general is the legal officer of the state and shall have the duties and powers provided by law." Mont. Const. Art. VI, § 4(4). The Attorney General controls and manages all litigation on behalf of the State, and may also intervene in all suits or proceedings which are of concern to the general public. The Attorney General's legal views and opinions prevail when a conflict arises between state agencies and officers whom the Attorney General represents. The Attorney General also has supervisory authority over the State's 56 county attorneys and, at the request of local, state or federal law enforcement agencies, can investigate criminal violations of law.

The Attorney General's authority, duties, and responsibilities also include:

- Authority and control over all legal actions concerning state lands. Mont. Code Ann. § 77-1-111.
- Authority to provide legal opinions – which carry the weight of law – to the Legislature; to state officers, boards or commissions; to city attorneys and to county commissioners and county attorneys. Mont. Code Ann. § 2-15-501.
- Authority to review and approve all state agreements and contracts with Montana's sovereign tribal nations. Mont. Code Ann. § 18-11-105.
- Limited authority to review all ballot initiatives and referenda for "legal sufficiency," and to approve ballot statements. Mont. Code Ann. § 13-27-312, 315.

Criminal Justice Bureau

The duties of the Criminal Justice Bureau (CJB) include the investigation and prosecution of various criminal cases throughout the State.

The CJB prosecutes crimes punishable by death or imprisonment for life and represents the State on all criminal appeals in the New Hampshire Supreme Court and the federal courts. In addition, the CJB conducts investigations and initiates prosecutions in cases involving drug trafficking, financial crime, cybercrime, public integrity crime, and Medicaid fraud. The CJB attorneys also assist in investigations involving the use of deadly force by police officers in the line of duty.

A few of the CJB's primary Units are detailed below:

Public Integrity Unit

The investigators and prosecutors of the Public Integrity Unit prosecute criminal wrongdoing by state government officials, including state law enforcement officers. The public integrity cases often involve extensive investigations, including the preparation of search warrants, and the review of financial documents such as bank records and town ledgers. The investigators interview numerous witnesses, and the attorneys often present a large amount of documentary and testimonial evidence to grand juries across the state.

Homicide Prosecution Unit

The attorneys of the Homicide Prosecution Unit are involved in murder cases from the first call of a suspicious death, through the trial of the case in the superior court, and the appeal of the conviction in the supreme court. The attorneys work closely with state and local police and oversee all investigations in cases of murder.

Additional Duty of Note:

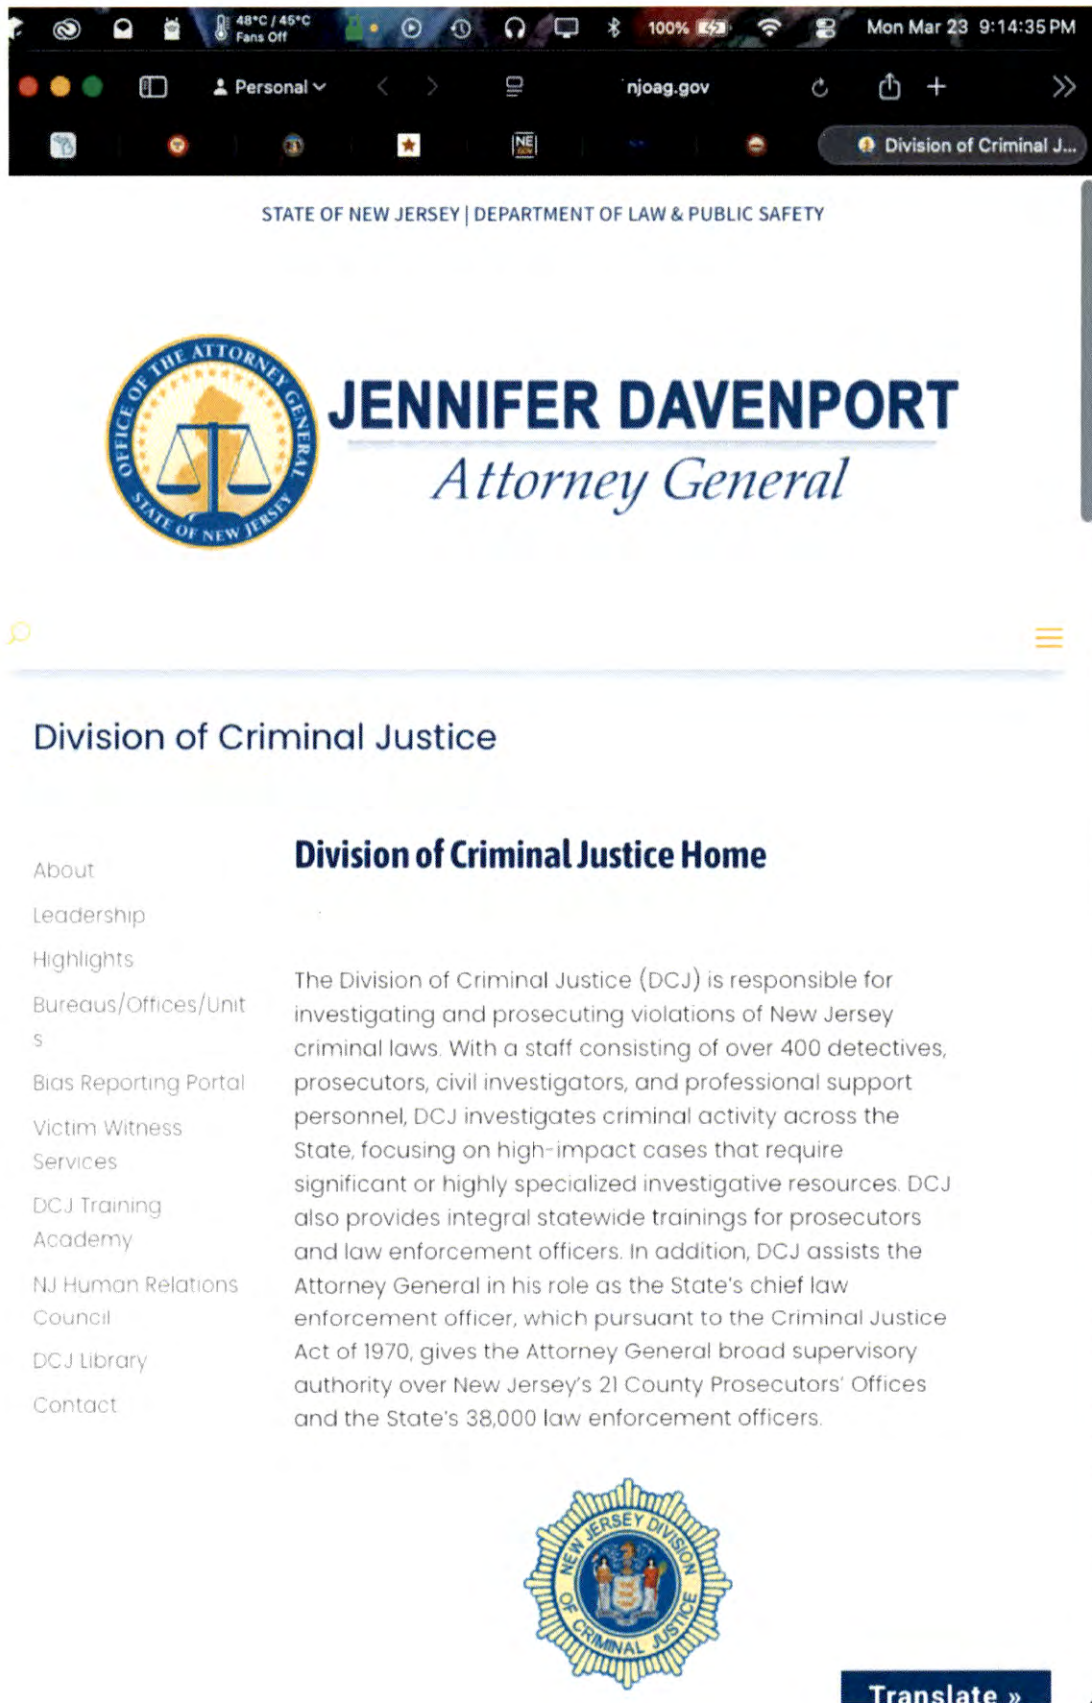

State Pardon Petitions

The CJB is also charged with the responsibility of processing pardon petitions pursuant to RSA 4:21, et seq.

Public safety is a critical part of our mission.

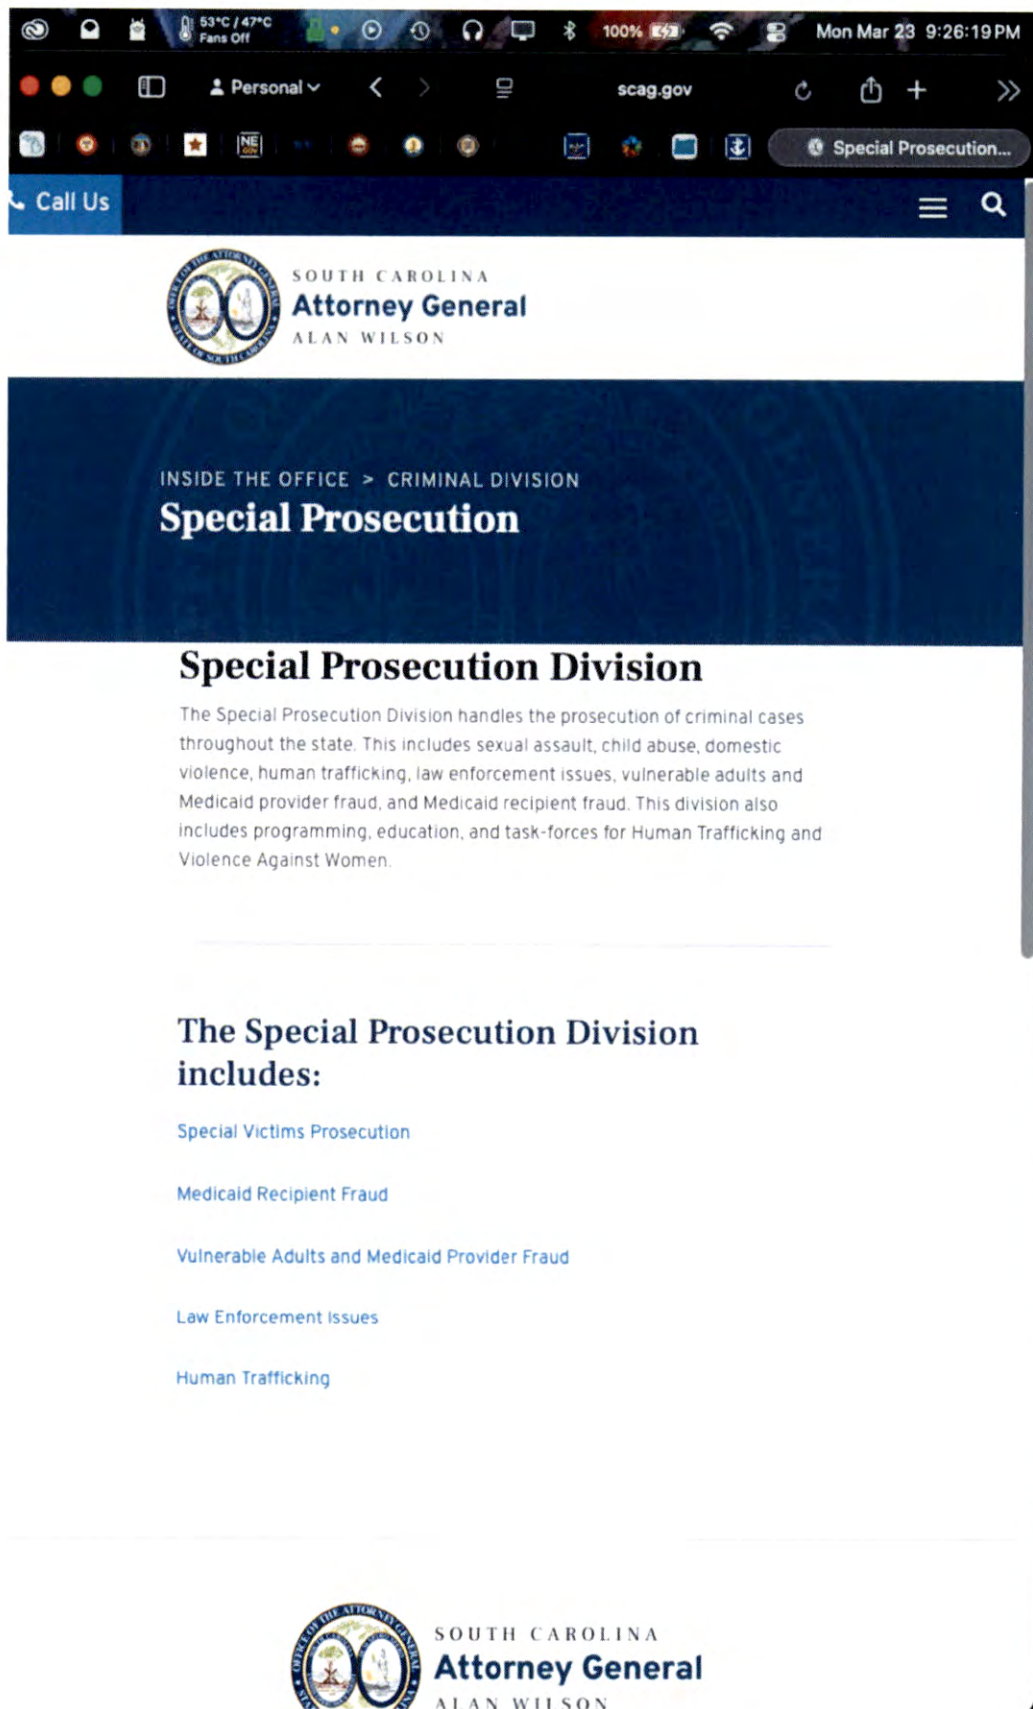

Rhode Island is one of only three other states (Alaska and Delaware being the other two) that share the same broad criminal mission. With no district attorneys, our Office prosecutes all felonies in the state, as well as a significant number of misdemeanors.

We target our resources to address the most violent criminals, while doing the daily work that is necessary to prosecute and help prevent crime in our state. We charge thousands of criminal cases every year in superior court and refer hundreds more to diversion.

The website's navigation bar includes links for 'Working for Tennessee', 'AG Opinions', 'News', 'We're Hiring', 'About the Office', 'Civil Rights Enforcement Division', and 'Contact Us'. The main content area is titled 'Criminal Justice Section' and lists two divisions: the Criminal Appeals Division and the Federal Habeas Corpus Division. Below this, the 'Financial and Regulatory Section' is listed, including the Administrative Law Division, Consumer Advocate Division, Environmental Division, and Financial Division. The 'Public Protection Section' follows, listing the Bankruptcy Division, Civil Medicaid Fraud Division, and Consumer Protection Division. The browser's status bar at the bottom shows the date 'Mon Mar 23' and time '9:28:12 PM'.

Criminal Justice Section

- * Criminal Appeals Division: The Criminal Appeals Division handles all appeals from criminal judgments State criminal courts. Division attorneys are responsible for interlocutory, extraordinary, direct and post-conviction appeals, defending state criminal judgments in state habeas corpus proceedings, and advising local prosecutors on complex legal issues. The Division has a team of attorneys who work with the Governor's legal counsel and Department of Correction attorneys in dealing with extradition and detainer matters.
- * Federal Habeas Corpus Division: The Federal Habeas Corpus Division defends state criminal judgments against collateral attacks in federal court. Because federal habeas corpus is the last stage in the three-tier review process for criminal judgments, Division attorneys also handle end-stage capital litigation in death penalty cases.

Financial and Regulatory Section

- * Administrative Law Division: The Administrative Law Division (ALD) specializes in litigation under the Uniform Administrative Procedures Act, the Public Records Act, Open Meetings Act, and the Public Participation Act. It provides general legal advice to the State's Supreme Court boards, health-related boards, and the Department of Commerce & Insurance's regulatory boards, and it advises all state entities on public records and open meetings issues.
- * Consumer Advocate Division: The Consumer Advocate Division represents the interests of Tennessee public-utility consumers when a public utility wants to raise rates or has service problems. Virtually all public utilities are government-sanctioned monopolies. The Tennessee Public Utility Commission regulates public utilities, but there remains an imbalance between the consumers and the utilities. The Legislature, therefore, created the Consumer Advocate to give consumers a legitimate voice before TPUC.
- * Environmental Division: The Environmental Division represents the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation, the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency, the Tennessee Fish and Wildlife Commission, and the Tennessee Historical Commission in both civil enforcement and defensive capacities.
- * Financial Division: The Financial Division provides legal services for many of the State's business-related activities, representing numerous agencies that deal with issues of government financing, banking, economic development, legal gambling, insurance and securities regulation, and contracting. The Division also defends the Department of Revenue and the State Board of Equalization in state tax matters.

Public Protection Section

- * Bankruptcy Division: The Bankruptcy Division represents state agencies in bankruptcy courts across the country. Specifically, it represents the State's interest by filing proofs of claim and administrative claims in bankruptcy cases where a state entity is owed a debt. The Division also collects penalties and other debts owed to state departments and agencies.
- * Civil Medicaid Fraud Division: The Civil Medicaid Fraud Division (CMF) investigates and prosecutes civil cases of Medicaid fraud against health providers and related parties. These efforts serve to deter the submission of False Claims to TennCare, Tennessee's Medicaid program, and restore ill-gotten gains to the state. Most of CMF's cases result from qui tam actions brought pursuant to the Tennessee Medicaid False Claims Act.
- * Consumer Protection Division: The Consumer Protection Division protects consumers and businesses from unfair and deceptive trade practices, enforces state and federal antitrust laws, and enforces the Unauthorized Practice of Law statutes. The Division of Consumer Affairs is part of the Consumer Protection Division, and it (1) serves as Tennessee's central coordinating agency and clearinghouse for consumer complaints alleging unfair and deceptive practices; (2) provides an informal complaint mediation program to help consumers and businesses resolve disputes and potentially avoid the need for litigation; and (3) conducts statewide educational presentations and other outreach initiatives to help Tennesseans avoid scams and protect their identities.
